

Supervisors End Session of 1927

Tax Rates Approved And Tax Rolls Ordered Delivered to Town Collectors—Other Matters Receive Attention And Board Adjourns Also Etc.

The Ulster county board of supervisors held the closing session of 1927 at its rooms in the court house on Thursday afternoon, beginning at 4 o'clock.

After roll call, on motion of Supervisor Young of Marlborough, privilege of the floor was voted unanimously to Eugene F. Patten and A. C. Quimby, former supervisors from Marlborough.

The committee on ratio and apportionment submitted its report, being the general tax table with rates, part of which was printed in The Freeman on Thursday, and later on motion it was accepted and a resolution was adopted that the several tax rates as determined in the report be fixed and adopted by the board as the tax rates for the levy and extension of taxes in each of said respective tax districts.

A resolution followed that the taxes be extended on the tax rolls of the several towns of this county be adopted and the amounts set forth therein be fixed and determined as the taxes due from each person, corporation and parcel of land, that the collector's warrants for the collection of taxes, signed by the chairman and clerk of the board, be sealed with seal of board of supervisors affixed to the tax rolls of the respective towns and the rolls delivered to the respective collectors before December 31, 1927. Adopted.

Cost of New Bridge.
A communication from state highway department called attention to the fact that it will be necessary to make a supplemental appropriation because of increased expense of building Bridge No. 3, Ulster-Delaware highway, at a cost of $1,500 of which the state will pay $975 and the county $525. Later Supervisor Simpson offered a resolution that $525 be appropriated and the county treasurer pay same out of funds not otherwise provided for as the county's share. The bridge is near Broad Street Hollow in the town of Shandaken.

Contract Awarded to Van Aken.
A communication was received from Clarence Van Aken offering to give cash bond or certified check that he will carry out the contract to construct a masonry and steel garage on Gage street for the county at $21,625. Later a resolution was adopted that he be awarded the contract at the above figure when furnishing the bond as required.

Albany Penitentiary Contract.
Supervisor Markle offered a resolution that chairman and clerk enter into a contract with Albany Penitentiary to care for prisoners sent from Ulster county. Adopted.

Supervisor Davis offered a resolution that allowances made for care of blind be continued from January 1, 1928, to December 31, 1929, and the county treasurer pay same from month to month as before. Adopted.

Supervisor Davis offered a resolution that the district attorney be authorized to draw from the court and jury fund $1,500 to be used for miscellaneous expenses and furnish an itemized statement showing uses. Adopted.

Supervisor Ferguson offered a resolution which was adopted that there be levied and assessed on the town of Ulster $10,779.11 to pay 1924 refund appeal bond and interest due March 1, 1925.

Bills Audited.
Bills of the twenty clerks who compiled the enrollment lists, being $55 each, were read and adopted and ordered paid out of fund heretofore appropriated for the purpose.

A bill of the Ellenville Journal for printing and for legal notices for $162.94 was ordered paid as it was found correct.

A few dog bills from justices and constables were ordered paid out of dog money in hands of county treasurer.

Gavel Presented to Chairman.

This completed the business as announced by Clerk DeWitt. Supervisor Schantz said he deplored the board adjourning abruptly. He said in years gone by there were speeches and resolutions of thanks. He felt sad and spoke feelingly, tears filling his eyes. He moved that the gavel used be presented to Chairman Scott, which was unanimously carried, and then moved that thanks be extended to the chairman, the clerk and his assistants for their courtesies.

On motion the reading of the minutes of this session was dispensed with and they were approved as recorded.

On motion of Supervisor Elvyn the board adjourned sine die.

HUNTING AND FISHING LICENSES COME NEXT.

After the rush of the last minute persons for motor vehicle license plates is over, and it has been up to previous years, the next rush will be of those who forgot that hunting and fishing licenses must be had after January 1, for 1928. The latter can be secured of town clerks and at the county clerk's office.

No Ashes on Monday.
Owing to Monday being a holiday, no ashes or garbage will be taken up by the street force that day, but same will be collected on Tuesday.

George Remus Found Insane

And Committed to Lima State Hospital for the Insane by Judge Lueders—Alienists Reported Remus Sane.

Cincinnati, Dec. 29 (AP)—George Remus, the former "king of bootleggers", today was committed to the State Hospital for the Criminal Insane at Lima as "insane and a dangerous person to be at large". One week after he cheated the electric chair when a jury found him not guilty of the murder of his wife on the sole ground of insanity.

The decision was handed down by Judge William H. Lueders, of the Hamilton county probate court, who spoke in unmistakable terms despite the finding of three alienists who sat with him in advisory capacities that Remus is "sane".

"The alienists, who had no part in the final decision, supported it with his elaboration of their finding that Remus technically is sane."

"We also find that said George Remus is a psychopath and therefore a dangerous individual to be at large. We believe that he is a dangerous psychopath because he is immoral, lacking a sense of ethics, emotionally unstable, being subject to unstrained outbursts of temper and rage and egocentric to a pathological degree."

"At the hearing six alienists of high standing in the community as citizens and eminent in their profession were called as witnesses," Judge Lueders said in his decision.

"Doctors David I. Wolfstein, Charles E. Kieley, E. A. Baber, H. S. Hoppe, Thomas A. Ratliff, and Howard D. McIntyre testified that in their opinion George Remus is now sane, and with the exception of Dr. Baber, all agree that George Remus is a dangerous individual to be at large."

"The evidence further discloses that George Remus at this time does not believe it morally wrong to commit further homicide."

Fire Destroys Liner and Piers

Clyde Elzer Seneca, Four Barges And Two Piers Burst Into Flames—Hendrik Hudson Towed Into River With Bow Flaming.

Hoboken, N. J., Dec. 30 (AP)—Flames roaring across two square blocks of the riverfront caused heavy damage here today.

The 300 foot Clyde liner Seneca, valued at $2,000,000, was transformed into an inferno and it was feared she was a total loss. Her captain and first mate escaped by sliding down a hand rope.

Two 700 foot piers were also destroyed. Pier 1 of the W. A. Fletcher Dry Dock Company, foot of 12th street, where the fire started from exploding gasoline, and the Lackawanna Railroad pier to which the Seneca, used in the New York to Miami service, had been tied since September.

Fire has been a Nemesis of the Clyde line for years. Several of her best boats have burned in port or on the water.

The Hendrik Hudson of the Hudson River Day Line was towed out into the river, with her bow flaming, and there the flames were extinguished.

Four barges at the Fletcher Dry Dock were consumed and four others at a Lackawanna pier were partly burned.

All Hoboken apparatus, a dozen railroad and New York city fireboats and volunteers about the docks fought the fire.

Thousands of persons viewed the spectacle.

Mrs. Rhinelander Seeks Separation

New York, Dec. 30 (AP)—The marital affairs of Leonard Kip Rhinelander, heir to $100,000,000 and his wife, daughter of a negro chauffeur, are to be before the courts again in a separation suit brought by his wife.

Mrs. Rhinelander, who years ago defeated the attempts of her husband to secure an annulment of their marriage on the grounds that she had deceived him as to her race and color, now asks for a separation on the basis of cruelty, inhuman treatment and abandonment. She asks no specific alimony.

Papers in the suit were delivered yesterday at the office of Sheriff Underhill at White Plains, N. Y., for service against Rhinelander.

Meanwhile Rhinelander, the New York Daily News said today, has gone to Louisiana to establish a residence preliminary to seeking a divorce from his wife.

Judge Samuel F. Swinburne, who successfully represented Mrs. Rhinelander in the action two years ago, is representing her again. He announced that Rhinelander can not be reached for personal service but will apply for service by publication.

Our Growing Population.
The following births have been reported to the board of health:

Mr. and Mrs. Nicola Popilio, 37 Crown street, a daughter, Maria Rosa.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvan Boice, 157 West O'Reilly street, a son, Louis.

Believe Hickman Had Accomplice

Police Working on Theory That Weibly Hunt Assisted in the Kidnapping—Bernoudy Says They Started in Crime After Reading Books.

Los Angeles, Dec. 29 (AP)—Reversing their previous opinion that the kidnapping, murder and mutilation of Marian Parker was a "one man job," Los Angeles police today started to work on the theory that William Edward Hickman had an accomplice. This move was made despite the fact that his confession, as announced by the investigators, declared he was alone in carrying out the crime.

Police expressed doubts that the 12 year old girl would have remained quietly in her abductor's automobile while he left it to send telegrams or to mail special delivery ransom letters to her father.

The investigators said one phase of the inquiry was centered in the possibility that 15 year old Weibly Hunt, confessed confederate of Hickman in a series of Kansas City, Texas and Pacific coast holdups, one of which resulted in the fatal shooting of Irv Thoms, Rosehill, Cal., druggist, may have assisted in the kidnapping of the Los Angeles school girl.

These police suspicions found new support in the holdup confession which young Hunt gave to Sheriff's officers.

"Why I'd have turned my own brother over to the police for a crime like that," Hunt declared.

He said he immediately had suspected Hickman, his erstwhile pal and confederate, of the slaying when he read his description in the newspapers prior to the identification by the police. The day before the police identification was made public, he said, he went to the bank in which Perry M. Parker, Marian's father, is assistant cashier, and in which he and Hickman had been employed as messengers, to determine whether the whereabouts of Hickman was known.

He said he and his step-mother, Mrs. Carrie Driskel, of Alhambra, with whom Hickman lived for a time, communicated their suspicions to the police.

Hunt Resembled "Cramer."

Police however, pointed out that Hunt resembled mysterious "Andrew Cramer" Hickman named in his first confession as the actual slayer of the child. Hickman later admitted that Cramer was only a segment of his imagination. Hunt also lives in Alhambra, the suburb to which the kidnapped girl was first taken and from which one of the ransom telegrams was filed.

Hunt will be questioned closely, the police said, as to his activities during the days from the time of the kidnapping of Marian until the body was delivered to her father and $15,000 collected.

Started After Reading Books.

Kansas City, Dec. 30 (AP)—Frank Vincent Bernoudy, 20, in a signed confession made public today by police, declared that William Edward Hickman, Weibly Hunt and himself "got their start in crime" after reading books in the public library here.

Bernoudy said they were employed at the library after school hours and that they often read crime stories together. He confessed to taking part in two robberies here in which he implicated Hickman and Hunt.

He told of being paroled after his conviction about three years ago on a charge of stealing an automobile. He said that when he became acquainted with Hunt and Hickman and told them of his experience with the courts, they suggested "I go out with them some time and make some easy money."

Bernoudy stated that after the two robberies, Hunt and Hickman showed him an automobile they said they had stolen and asked him to go to California with them. He refused. He said they left for the coast December 7, 1926.

City Hall Bids Opened Tonight

The common council will meet at the Municipal Building this evening at 7:30 o'clock to open bids for the plumbing, heating and water service for the reconstructed city hall.

Earlier in the week the building committee of the council awarded the W. W. Kingston Company, Inc., of Poughkeepsie, the general contract for the rebuilding of the city hall.

Hicks Marriage Dissolved.

In an Enoch Arden proceeding, the marriage of Edith May Hicks from Charles Hicks has been dissolved by order of Justice G. D. B. Hasbrouck. Plaintiff lives in Kingston and the parties were married in Catskill on April 1, 1914. Plaintiff has not seen or heard of husband's whereabouts in over nine years.

There is one child. Notice was served by publication. V. B. Van Wageningen, attorney for plaintiff.

Hunting Accident Fatal to Boy.

Welland, Ont., Dec. 30 (AP)—Morris Young, 16, who lived at Morris Robinson, near here, died today after amputation of his right leg made necessary by a hunting accident last Monday. The boy's father and several other companions shot at a rabbit. Young was in the line of fire and his right leg was shattered near the knee.

Banquet of Ulster Supervisors Has Brilliant Talks

Supreme Court Justice Russell, Guest of Honor, Pays Tribute to County at Supervisors' Association Banquet—Other Speakers Touch on Variety of Subjects.

With policies taboo, over 174 supervisors, ex-supervisors and future supervisors and their friends gathered at the Stuyvesant Hotel Thursday evening for the annual banquet of the Supervisors' Association of Ulster county, and to say that the banquet was enjoyed would be stating the case mildly. The board of 1927 had just concluded its work for the season and had reason to celebrate a little, the incoming board availed themselves of the opportunity to hold an inauguration, celebration and the supervisors of years gone by took the opportunity to mix again with friends of old and do a little celebrating themselves. Consequently there was a spirit of fellowship hard to equal and seldom outcome as the members disposed of a well prepared turkey dinner. To keep up the spirits of the diners Paul Zucca and his orchestra was present and led in community singing while later in the evening, after Paul had become exhausted, Hal M. Eppes took up the leading for a time until Zucca had recovered his breath, and then there were two leaders working at times together and at other times in competition, so there was plenty of music, both instrumental and vocal, singly, in pair, trios and even quartet.

Judge Upholds Reputation.
Judge Pierce R. Russell of Troy, who had concluded the December term of the Supreme court, was the guest of the association and the speaker of the evening, and Judge Russell as an after dinner speaker continued to uphold the reputation he has earned for himself on the bench in Ulster county.

Assemblyman Davis Toastmaster.
Assemblyman Millard Davis was toastmaster of the evening and after the dinner had been disposed of he arose to explain his presence at the banquet. He was not a supervisor or an ex-supervisor, he said in opening, and did not know why he had been selected as toastmaster except that perhaps the association was afraid to have a supervisor or ex-supervisor preside as he would probably know too much about other present, including in his usual inimitable brand of humor, Mr. Davis told of the agricultural interests of the county and the importance of the farmer to the county and city.

Not alone did he speak in a light vein but he referred seriously to the value of agriculture to the county and of the richness of the county through its agriculture.

Groves Bestows Credit.

Judge Robert G. Groves, county attorney, was the first speaker introduced. He spoke of the responsibilities of the board of supervisors and also referred to the county as a manufacturing county as well as an agricultural county. He expressed his appreciation of the cooperation and assistance given him by former County Attorney John W. Eckert, and Henry R. DeWitt, clerk of the board of supervisors, and also spoke of the competent services which both these men had rendered and were rendering the county.

Comerford Talks on County's Wealth.

Thomas J. Comerford, editor of the Kingston Leader, was next called upon and he reviewed in a general way the wealth of the county. He referred to the value of the farm products which Ulster county farmers produced, pointing out that from 12 to 15 millions of dollars were derived from agricultural activity each year in the county. City and county alike would suffer if it were not for the farmers and fruit growers of the county. Of some 4,000 farms in the county about 95 per cent were operated by the owners themselves while others were operated by tenants or by hired superintendents. He told of the value of agriculture to the wealth and welfare of the county and of its beneficial influence on the business of the city of Kingston.

Mr. Comerford also spoke of a coming movement to put the entire Central Hudson river section on the map. With the building of bridges, the completion of the new Holland tunnels and the bridges which had already been built making the mid-Hudson territory very accessible to greater New York, he predicted that in the near future there would be started a movement to advertise and place before the public the many advantages of the mid-Hudson river section. When the time came and Ulster county was asked to contribute toward the support of this movement through the board of supervisors, he urged that the board consider the proposition and give generously toward the cause which would make for a bigger and better county and section.

Judge Russell Warmly Welcomed.

Judge Russell when introduced, was greeted with "How do you do," Judge Russell, he do you do," sung by the entire audience assisted by Zucca and his orchestra. Judge Russell warmly all present that he was not going to talk at any great length and then proceeded to speak in such an interesting manner that at the conclusion of his talk all were well.

Butcher Is Held In a Murder Plot

James Lybolt, 21 Year Old Summitville Youth, Charged Benjamin Joyce, Summitville Butcher, With French Scheme.

Charged with planning a charge of dynamite beneath the hood of a competitor's delivery truck that exploded, would have laid the entire business section of the village of Woodridge in ruins, Benjamin Joyce, well known butcher of Summitville, was arrested early Wednesday morning by a posse from the Sullivan county sheriff's office and held to await trial for attempted murder, says the Ellenville Journal. His accuser is James Lybolt, 21-year-old Summitville lad, whose written confession, made to Sergeant Jack Hopkins, of the state constabulary, states that he acted as the butcher's tool in the French scheme.

Lybolt was arrested Tuesday on a charge of first degree assault growing out of his alleged attempts to kill Elizabeth Moore, his father's housekeeper, at Summitville, early in November.

Sheriff George Darling of Sullivan county, and attaches of his office cooperated with Sergeant Hopkins in the arrest of Joyce and the questioning of Lybolt.

Lybolt's confession is one of the most remarkable documents in Sullivan county criminal annals, according to Hopkins. It tells how Lybolt, spurred by the promise of $200, if he were successful, planted fourteen sticks of dynamite under the hood of Abe Laskawitz's motor truck in Laskawitz's garage at Woodridge last April and wired the charge so it would explode when Laskawitz stepped on the starter.

May Clear Other Mysteries.

Investigators believe that the startling exposures made by young Lybolt may result in the wholesale solution of other mysteries which have vexed the police in and around Summitville in seasons past. The dynamiting of the Oscar Worden homestead on the outskirts of that village two years ago which through oversight on the criminal's part resulted only in the shattering of a few panes of glass, but which troopers believe to have had back of it a deliberate attempt to destroy a family, has never been successfully explained, but with the revelations made by the hither Lybolt a new investigation is said to be under way. The comparatively recent robbery of the Schindler's Garage may also be linked up with the present discoveries.

That the explosive did not detonate and lay waste the whole business area of Woodridge was due only to the fact that Lybolt failed properly to ground the wires with which he connected the dynamite to the spark plugs. Laskawitz started his car the morning after the dynamite was placed and drove to Fallsburgh. Upon raising the hood at Fallsburgh to see why his engine was missing the dynamite was discovered.

ROBBERS HANDCUFF VICTIM AND STEAL $520.

New York, Dec. 30 (AP)—A new wrinkle in the technique of highway robbery came to the attention of police today when a handcuffed victim reported he had been shackled and held up by two men who pretended to be detectives.

Vincenzo Don Zalez said he had been "arrested", bundled into an automobile and robbed of $520. At a deserted spot in Riverside Drive he was thrown from the car while the "detectives" sped away. A dozen taxicab drivers, noticing his handcuffs, ignored his hails, believing him to be an escaped prisoner, before he found one who would take him to a police station.

JAPANESE STEAMSHIP IS REPORTED LOST

London, Dec. 30 (AP)—A Lloyd's dispatch from Yokohama states that the Japanese steamship Danichizan Maru is reported to have been lost with all aboard during a snowstorm, December 25 near Otaru.

The dispatch also reports that two other steamships went ashore during the storm, the Hakata Maru No. 11 going ashore near Otaru yesterday and the Shofuku Maru going ashore, at Teuchizaki Akita-ken on Wednesday.

Motions Argued in Malpractice Suit

Counsel for Dr. B. W. Gifford Moves to Set Aside $5,000 Verdict in Gunther Case—Plaintiff Asks Extra Allowance—Judge Russell Reserves Decision.

Thursday afternoon Supreme court was reconvened for the purpose of hearing motions in relation to the verdict of the jury in the Gunther-Gifford malpractice action which was tried last week before Judge Russell and a jury. The trial resulted in a verdict for plaintiff in the sum of $5,000.

H. H. Flemming, attorney for defendant, moved to set aside the verdict on several grounds. Among them were that the plaintiff had failed to make a case in that testimony of lay witnesses was given in regard to the treatment administered by Dr. Gifford to the effect that it had not been a good job and that the sewing of the wound had not been proper and also that instrument used had not been sterilized. This testimony from a lay witness was not sufficient and should have come from an expert. There being no such expert testimony, he held that the plaintiff had failed to make a case.

He also said that Dr. Fleming, the expert of the plaintiff, had testified that the improper sterilizing of instruments had been a forwarding cause and not a competent producing cause but that he assumed the cut made by the axe had been infected and could be classed as a competent producing cause of the adverse result in the case.

Actual, Not Hypothetical.

Dr. O'Meara and Dr. Chandler had both seen the case and their testimony as experts had been from actual observation and not hypothetical. Their testimony given in behalf of defendant was to the effect that the treatment was proper as against the lay testimony of plaintiff. He held that the preponderance of testimony had been with the defendant since it was the testimony of two experts who had seen the case as against the testimony of lay witnesses.

He also moved to set aside the verdict on the grounds that incompetent testimony had been introduced, to wit, the question in regard to Dr. Gifford inducing a certain person to sign over property to him and then having her committed to an insane asylum. This testimony was highly improper and used for only one purpose, that of prejudicing the minds of the jury.

Question Concerning Insurance.

Another ground for setting aside the verdict was a question asked of Dr. Bush by plaintiff's attorney in regard to whether he was a member of an association which carried group insurance on doctors and whether or not that insurance would be cancelled in event he testified against another doctor in a malpractice action. This was asked improperly to convey to the minds of the jurors that the doctors were insured and if that was the reason, it was highly improper since the matter of insurance could not be considered in the action. Mr. Flemming cited several authorities on that point.

Judge Russell inquired if an objection had been taken on trial to the question and was informed that there had been, but no motion for a mistrial had been made at the time. The question asked, he said, was close to the border line if not over and depended on the previous question of counsel. Judge Russell stated that he had no doubt as to the disposition of the question in the higher courts. If the question was asked in connection with the alleged conference of the doctors called for the purpose of their protection and to show that they were banded together for such protection and not asked for the purpose of showing that there was insurance, then it might be permissible. If asked to show that there was insurance, then it would be incompetent.

Mr. Flemming also asked for relief. Certain statements of Judge Cunningham in his summation when he said that "doctors will tell you privately that it was a rotten job but won't testify so," and also on other statements made during the summation.

Rhinebeck Man Says He Is Sane

George Traver Seeks Release From Matteawan State Hospital on Ground He Was Pronounced Sane—Lunatic There Since 1921.

George Traver, 37, of Rhinebeck, committed to the Matteawan Asylum for the Criminal Insane by Justice Morschauser six years ago, appeared before Justice Arthur S. Tompkins Wednesday morning to ask for a release. Physicians testified in medical testimony during the habeas corpus proceedings. Decision was reserved.

Dr. William J. Thompson, senior assistant physician at the Hudson River State Hospital, testified that in his opinion Traver has staged a "social recovery"; that he is fit to be released and that he is competent to consult with his attorney, James E. Carroll, and to defend himself against a 1920 indictment charging him with possessing a revolver illegally and carrying a concealed weapon.

Dr. John H. Disman, who examined Traver several times, testified to the same effect. Dr. Joseph W. Moore, acting superintendent of the Matteawan institution, however, took the opposite view in his testimony. He said Traver is suffering from dementia praecox and that he is not recovered from his mental sickness. He testified that Traver has had so many court proceedings that he knows the testimony so well, he is able to conceal expression of any of the tendencies which would indicate the presence of his mental sickness.

Dr. Moore quoted parts of Traver's letters in which Traver wrote he was not the father of his youngest child, in 1926 and in 1924 had sent a letter to Governor Smith making charges against Justice Morschauser, who had committed him. Traver testified that he was formerly a railway mail clerk. He lived in Brewster, New York and Rhinebeck and in his business carried a revolver. Mrs. Traver had him arrested for non-support in Rhinebeck in September, 1926, and this charge was dismissed, he said. Then he went to work on the railroad between Buffalo and Pittsburgh and learned in January, 1927, that he had been indicted the previous September for carrying a revolver. He was arrested in New York city, returned to Poughkeepsie and committed to Matteawan, where he has been confined since.

ADIRONDACK DEER SENSE END OF HUNTING SEASON.

Saranac Lake, N. Y., Dec. 30 (P).—It appears that Adirondack deer quickly sense that the hunting season is over.

During the open season they are never seen by any except those hunting them. Immediately after the close of the season, however, the deer begin to return to orchards and clearings close to Adirondack roads and homes.

Leonard Duntley of Pine Grove drove his car close to a big buck that was eating apples beneath a tree, within a short distance of his home. The forest monarch hardly noticed him. William Hayes of the same hamlet came face to face with a big buck within a few yards of his home. Does and fawns have also been seen about the homes. All of the deer were seen shortly after the hunting season closed.

Fairy Tale: The defendant was pretty as a picture, so the jury voted to hang her.

Safe Way to Stop Night Coughing

A Prescription That Stops Coughs in 15 Minutes.

Persistent night coughing is usually due to causes which cough syrups and patent medicines do not touch. A remarkable prescription known as Thorine, working on an entirely different principle, goes directly to the cause, and is guaranteed to stop the stubbornest cough within 15 minutes. One swallow is all that's needed. If it fails, get your money back. No chloroform or other harmful drugs. Safe for children. Equally good for sore throat, 35c, 65c and $1.00. Sold by superior to gargles. Ask for Thorine. 35c, 65c and $1.00. Sold by Kingston Central Pharmacy and all good drug stores.

MAAMOTH CAVE NATIONAL PARK FOR OLD KENTUCKY

State-Wide Campaign Launched to Raise Money to Purchase the Cave Region.

Louisville, Ky.—A national park in Kentucky, including world famous Mammoth Cave and the surrounding territory of subterranean marvels and scenic beauties, is planned by the Mammoth Cave National Park association, which is preparing to launch a state-wide campaign for $2,000,000 to purchase the cave region.

Once purchased the lands, covering 70,618 acres, will be turned over to the United States government to be maintained and developed thenceforth as a national park. Congress has already authorized their acceptance.

The association sponsoring the project has compiled a list of figures which shows how national parks in other sections of the United States have been the means of attracting an enormous number of tourists, thus adding to the region's economic welfare and general progress.

America's national parks until this time have practically all been west of the Mississippi with one exception, namely, Lafayette National park, on an island of eight square miles far up along the coast of Maine.

Members of the Mammoth Cave National Park association who have studied the situation carefully declare thousands of tourists who now go to the West will stay in the East, and with such a national park as Mammoth cave and its adjoining regions so convenient, a multitude of other persons will be influenced to travel. Their visits will not be limited to a day or two in Kentucky. They will remain a week or a month, visiting the state's other points of interest.

This year only about 60,000 persons have visited the cave regions. With the impetus of advertising and development the national government will give, it is estimated the number will be increased to 300,000 a year within a short time, and of course the growth will be continuous.

Jersey Is Favored for Sports Wear; Practical

Nothing is more practical for sports wear than jersey and its vogue is increasing every day. Traveling, motoring, golfing and walking costumes are utilizing this fabric. The fabrics are light in weight, yet have enough resistance to cold to be comfortable. The skirts of the sport costumes are usually plain with a jersey jumper strikingly ornamented with stripes or chevrons in contrasting colors. Beige is the favorite background.

The KITCHEN CABINET

New blessings light on him that first invented this same cabinet. It covers a man's all over, thoughts and all like a cloak; it is meant for the hungry, drink for the thirsty, heat for the cold, and cold for the hot. It is correct code that purchased all the pleasures of the world cheap, and the balance that sets the king and the shepherd, the fool and the wise man even.—Cervantes.

REASONABLE SWEETS

Very few, young or old, refuse sweets. Children crave them, and two or three pieces after a meal will satisfy the craving and provide the heat-producing and energy-building elements their young bodies require.

Salt Water Taffy.—Put one and one-fourth pounds of sugar, one and one-fourth pounds of white syrup and one pint of water in a saucepan and stir until boiling begins. Wash down the sides of the saucepan with a damp cloth and continue boiling to the brittle stage. Take from the fire, add a tablespoonful of butter, one and one-half teaspoonfuls of salt and turn out on greased marble or platters. When cool enough to handle, two persons can pull it. Work in the coloring and flavoring while pulling. Cut into small pieces with shears and roll in waxed paper.

Molasses Glacé.—Take two cupfuls of granulated sugar, one tablespoonful of cocoa and one-half cupful of milk. Beat just six minutes counting the time the bubbling begins. Add a tablespoonful of butter and one cupful of raisins, stir enough to mix and drop by spoonfuls on waxed paper.

Peanut Cream Fudge.—Cook to a soft ball two-thirds of a cupful of cream, two cupfuls of brown sugar, one-half teaspoonful of salt and one heaping tablespoonful of peanut butter. Beat until creamy and pour into a buttered tin. Cut into squares.

Peanut Brittle.—Put one cupful of granulated sugar into an iron frying pan and stir until it forms a sirup, push back from the flame and stir in one cupful of peanuts which have been skinned and heated in the oven, add a teaspoonful of butter and a pinch of soda. Turn out as thinly as possible in a greased dripping pan. When cold break into pieces.

Orange Pie.—Bake a rich pastry shell and when cool fill with orange jelly. Cover with whipped cream sweetened and flavored and serve cold.

BLACK COAT WITH NATURAL LIXX, NOVELTY VELVET DRESSES, AND THE NEW AND COQUETTISH EYE VEIL ARE AMONG THE MOST IMPORTANT PARISIEN FADS.

Paris—The rapidity with which fashions get under way never ceases to be a matter of amazement. Not only in Paris but elsewhere. No sooner does a clever idea register than in an instant, so it seems, every one has reacted favorably to it.

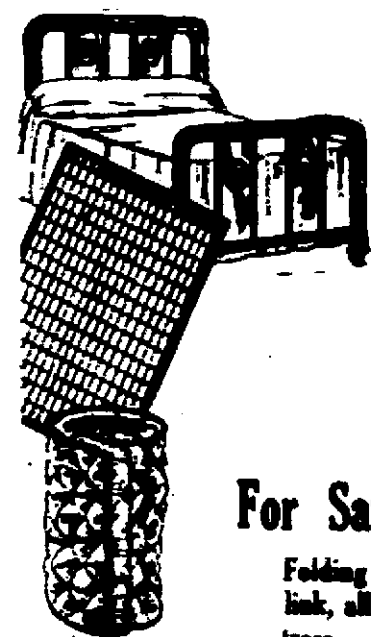

The shadowy and coquettish eye-veil is an instance of this. It made its appearance in Paris, and almost instantly women were veiled. If one may use this term to apply to anything as infinitesimal as these veils. The same is true of black coats trimmed with natural lixx and of gray sports dresses, especially angora—at least the sweater section of angora.

tural lixx, it is difficult to suggest a second choice. Everyone here seems to have adopted the black coat as the winter uniform, which has a direct bearing, by the way, on fur coats. For there are nothing like as many fur coats seen in Paris at the moment as is usually the case at this season.

Velvet and transparent velvet dresses, always figured, about which so much has been published, seem from this vantage point, to merit what has been written concerning them. One collection—McGraw's—is to be explicit—is made up almost entirely of this type of dress.

One finds such dresses being worn rather more among the French than in the resident American colony. They are for this reason important, although one has sympathy for those with whom they fail to find great favor.

If for one reason or another, one is not attracted by the idea of a black coat, colored luxuriously with na-

NEW BUILDINGS PLANNED FOR NAPANOCH INSTITUTION.

Extensive structural improvements at the Institution for Defective Delinquents at Napanoch are being planned for next year, contingent upon the state's apportionment of the necessary funds, it is announced. State surveys have been busy at the institution this week laying out the sites for the staff quarters and dormitories which are to go up at the institution this spring as the result of the half million dollars allotted for building purposes by the state legislature last June. If the construction planned is carried out, it will increase the institution's capacity to 1,000 inmates and in addition will provide it with adequate railroad and warehouse facilities.

Few businesses are so good that more advertising will not help them.

CHRISTMAS CANTATA AT FIRST DUTCH CHURCH.

Sunday evening at the First Reformed Church, the Christmas cantata "The Story of Bethlehem" will be sung by the regular choir of the church, under the direction of W. Whiting Frederburgh, organist and chorist. This cantata tells in music most descriptive the story of Christmas and is divided in two parts, "The Shepherds" and "The Magi" with the "Adoration of the Infant." Bringing the work to a triumphant close. The soloists for this work will be Mrs. Johnston, soprano; Frank Finley, baritone; and Herman La Tour, tenor. If they sing as they buzz, it's a prize. If they scowl, it's a prize. If they sing as they buzz, it's a prize. If they scowl, it's a prize.

Nurseries Are Full of Trees

Conservation Department Prepares For Record Spring Planting—Farm Bureau and 4-H Clubs Assured of Plenty of First Class Planting Stock.

Albany, Dec. 29 (P)—In a letter to Farm Bureau agents throughout the state, Conservation Commissioner Alexander Macdonald announces that the state will be in better condition to furnish forest planting stock during the coming year than ever before, since the reforestation movement has begun.

New varieties of trees have been added and the supply of the larger size trees, three year old transplants, is abundant.

In the Department's nurseries at Saratoga Springs, Lake Clear Junction and Lowville, there are now growing 24,319,000 three-year old transplants and 23,937,000 two-year old seedlings. The price of the transplants will be $4 per thousand and of the seedlings $2 per thousand for planting on privately owned land. These trees are sold only for reforestation and not for lawn or ornamental purposes and no orders for less than 1,000 trees are accepted.

The supply of transplants this year has been largely increased to meet the demand for the larger sized trees which in recent years, has made up a large percentage of the orders. The past year was an unusually favorable growing season for trees in the nursery with the result that next year's planting stock will be particularly good.

People Planting Balsams.
To meet the steadily increasing demand for balsams, which many people are beginning to plant for Christmas trees, the state will have a good supply of these trees in three-year old stock. A new variety of Scotch pine the "Riga", which is the straight formed pine, can be supplied this year in two-year old seedlings.

A fast growing tree that is especially recommended for farm use is the European larch, which makes good fence posts, and these will be obtainable in any quantity in the typical old stock. The supply of white pine, Scotch pine and red pine transplants which are used in larger quantities than any of the other varieties are of good size and quality and all have well developed roots. There is a good supply of white spruce both in seedlings and transplants. For ordinary planting the three-year old transplants are recommended, but where soil conditions are ideal and where there is a light soil the seedlings will do well.

Black locust for fence posts is popular in many parts of the state and in recent years there has been a large demand for this tree from farmers in the western part of the state, which the Department is prepared to meet in full from the Saratoga nursery.

Popular Cuttings Supplied.
In addition to growing trees the Department this year is in position to supply Carolina poplar cuttings not rooted. These are about the size of a lead pencil and should not be put out in the field but should be first planted in a wet garden patch where they can be cultivated the first year. At the end of the first year they ought to be from two to four feet high, after which they can be set out in plantations and make very rapid growth.

Last year 4-H Clubs in many of the counties of the state made reforestation one of their projects and planted in the aggregate about half a million trees. The membership of these clubs ranges in age from 12 to 20 years so that any members engaged in reforestation do so with a reasonable expectation of being able to harvest their own forest crop instead of leaving it for the next generation. The popularity of reforestation among the members of these clubs promises to result this year in aggregate plantings of more than a million trees.

While the spring planting season is still nearly four months off the Conservation Department has already received orders for more than four million trees for spring planting.

Lipsticks Are Ancient.
Rochester, N. Y., Dec. 30. (P)—While lipsticks are purported to have been a valued accessory of royalty of ancient Egypt, proof positive exists that they are at least a century old. An almanac of 1827, preserved at the Rochester Municipal Museum, gives the following recipe: "Dissolve a lump of beeswax in a small quantity of sweet oil over a candle and let it cool. Rub it warm on the lips two or three times."

Says American Women Have Stony Hearts

London.—The American woman is beautiful, with a heart of stone, and if she wants romance she has to leave the American man, who is merely a nondescript money-making machine, hobbled and come to Europe. These and other impressions equally interesting were told to Londoners recently by Sidney Horler, writer of mystery stories, on his return from New York.

"New York," he said, "is the city impossible come true. Anything can happen in New York, and frequently does."

"One night, while drinking coffee in a popular restaurant, I saw an insignificant-looking individual calmly draw a revolver and place it gently and significantly against the stomach of a third man. 'Outside,' he ordered, and the threatened party went more or less docilely to the door."

"No one interfered and beyond a casual glance to one appeared the least interested."

"New York is a city of the most beautiful women I have ever seen. A walk along any two blocks on Fifth Avenue should be sufficient to keep the average poet in sonnets the rest of his life."

"Tell me something about these American women," I asked the wife of an Englishman who has lived in New York for 22 years. This is what she said:

"I grant you there is an astonishing number of remarkably beautiful women in New York, but have you noticed that they never look at anyone in the street? That is because they have stony hearts. They have no use for men except as dollar chasers."

Dressmakers Accentuate All That Is Feminine

The neckline which is bordered with small flowers is not unusual among the collections of important Paris dressmakers. It is part of the style makers' scheme of accentuating all that is feminine this winter and bringing their fair clients back to womanliness.

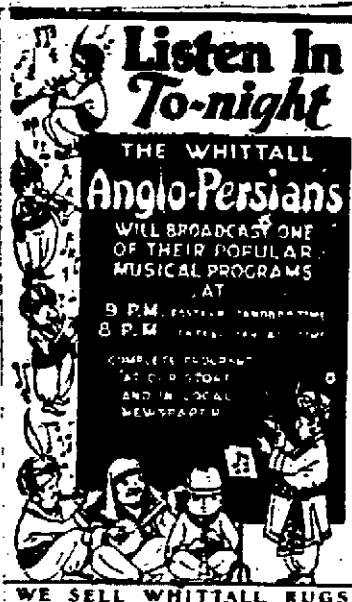

They rosebuds outline the round neck of a black taffeta frock at one famous house. Red camellias frame the back only of another décolleté, a very low one on a black velvet gown.

There are several examples in Parisian society of women who consider flowers worn on the back side of the left shoulder smarter than flowers worn anywhere else. Despite the exceptions, the general tendency in upper fashion circles is to remove the emphasis from the flowers to the costume. As a rule fewer flowers are being worn.

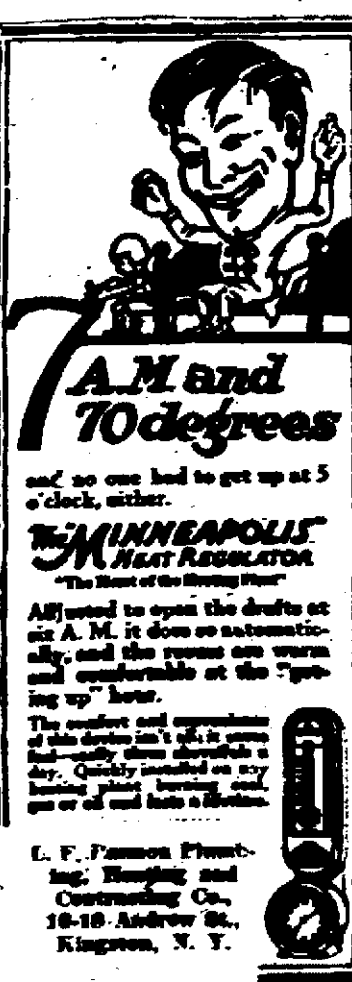

Paris Favors Broadtail, Genuine or Imitation

American broadtail is much used in imitation, as well as the genuine skin.

Some of the newest coats are broadtail cloth, which resembles the genuine article closely enough to give a rich appearance. The colors are beige and black in the cloth, the same colors used for broadtail. Collars and cuffs of broadtail are also in vogue.

MONKEYS IN CANAL ZONE ARE PEEVED AT AIRPLANES

Show Deep Resentment When Rival
Noise-maker Appears, Says Scientist.

New York.—The howling monkeys of the Canal zone cherish deep resentment against airplanes. It is the first time they have ever encountered a serious rival in the production of noise, Dr. Frank Chapman of the American Museum of Natural History, declared recently in reporting the activities of the station for the study of wild life at Barro Colorado island in Gatun zone.

"If a court of arms is ever devised for Barro Colorado," said Doctor Chapman, "it would show several howling monkeys shouting furiously at an airplane."

This tropical laboratory offers unique opportunities for the study of birds and animals under undisturbed conditions. It is the only place within the jurisdiction of the United States where the continental flora and fauna characteristic of the American continent in the tropics can be studied within the jurisdiction of the United States.

The island, which is really a headland of the mainland cut off by the backing up of waters reserved for the locks of the canal, is teeming with birds and animals of the most diverse forms. "On a single morning," said Doctor Chapman, "I observed passing before my door any number of crows (a small animal about the size of a raccoon), a little flock of peccaries, a procession of howling monkeys and the duke and duchess of York."

As a result of his observations on the island, Doctor Chapman has reached the conclusion that the turkey buzzard's unerring instinct for locating carrion is due to a phenomenally keen sense of smell as much as to the sense of sight.

The famous ornithologist is particularly interested in the study of the habits of the tropical relative of the Baltimore oriole. Careful observation of a colony in the treetops revealed the fact that the females build the long pendulous nests quite unassisted and vie with each other for the favors of the polygamous males. Only seven of the latter were counted in a colony of 42 females.

New Device Installed for Stopping Trains

Berlin.—A new device for stopping trains automatically is about to be installed on the Berlin-Dresden line. The new device is worked by an electro-magnetic system, one magnet being attached to the rails between the first semaphore, or warning signal, and the principal semaphore, while the other is affixed to the locomotive. On observing the warning signal, the engineer can disconnect the locomotive's magnet by means of a simple lever; failing to do so, however, the brakes are automatically applied about a quarter of a mile before the principal semaphore, when the locomotive cannot be started again until the engineer gets off and operates a releasing device attached to the semaphore. Neither snow, ice nor any other foreign substance can diminish the electro-magnetic power of this device, which, therefore, can never become clogged as do other mechanically operated contrivances.

This new expedient is considered a vast improvement on all other systems experimentally tried out on the German railways and if it fulfills all promises will be introduced throughout the German railway service.

No Audience Needed for a Proper Make-Up

Berlin.—"Do it in your boudoir." The campaign of the Swiss Hotel Journal against the practice of powdering, lipstick and arranging one's bob in public places might be summed up in that slogan. The advocacy of privacy in "making up" has invaded Germany and the Acht Uhr Blatt here defends it zealously.

"We do not doubt that the hotel and restaurant proprietors will be in favor of banning the unladylike practice so prevalent now. What would the women say if a man started to apply shaving soap and razor to his beard on the street car or in a hotel dining room?" the Acht Uhr Blatt asks.

Several members of the fair sex protested against the validity of the comparison. They maintain that a man's shave, once completed at home—where it belongs—lasts through the day. Powdering one's nose or putting a bit of healthy color into one's cheeks is an entirely different question.

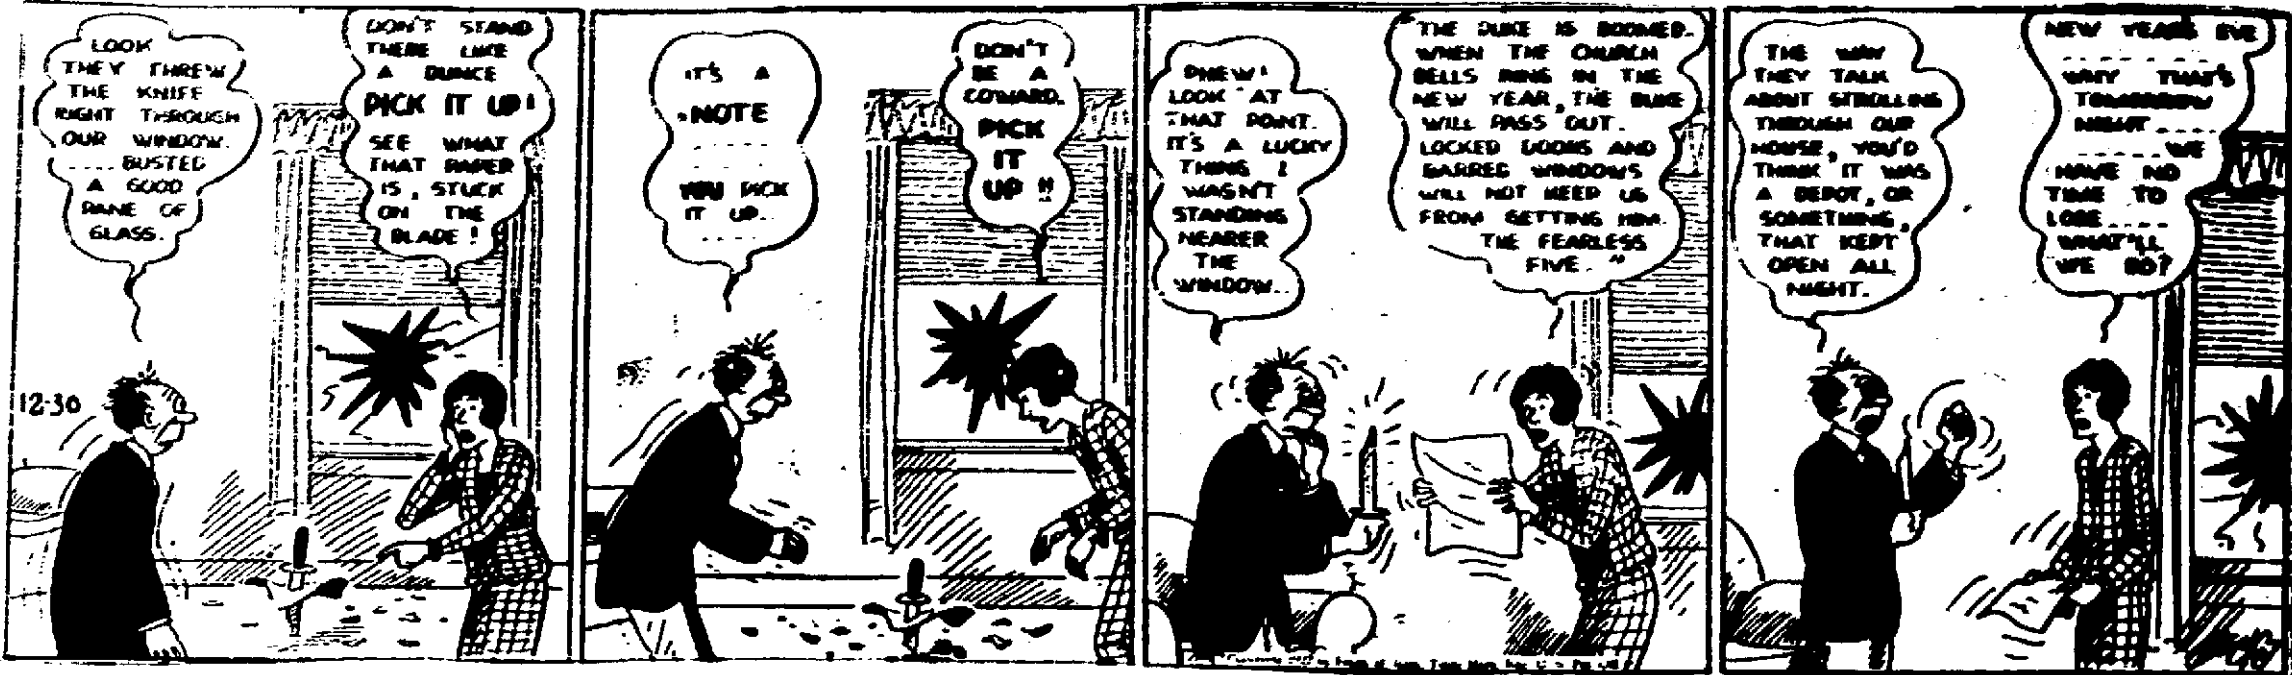

Ancient Indian Battle Told in Hieroglyphics

Bend, Ore.—The story of a hot battle between two Indian tribes, the Shoshones and probably the Ban-nocks, has been read from hieroglyphics found carved on the basaltic walls of Dry river near here. The story was read by Nipo Strongheart, known as Chitu Tum Nah of the confederated tribes of the Yakimas.

One brave of the Elk clan was particularly valorous, Strongheart said. He took at least 20 scalps.

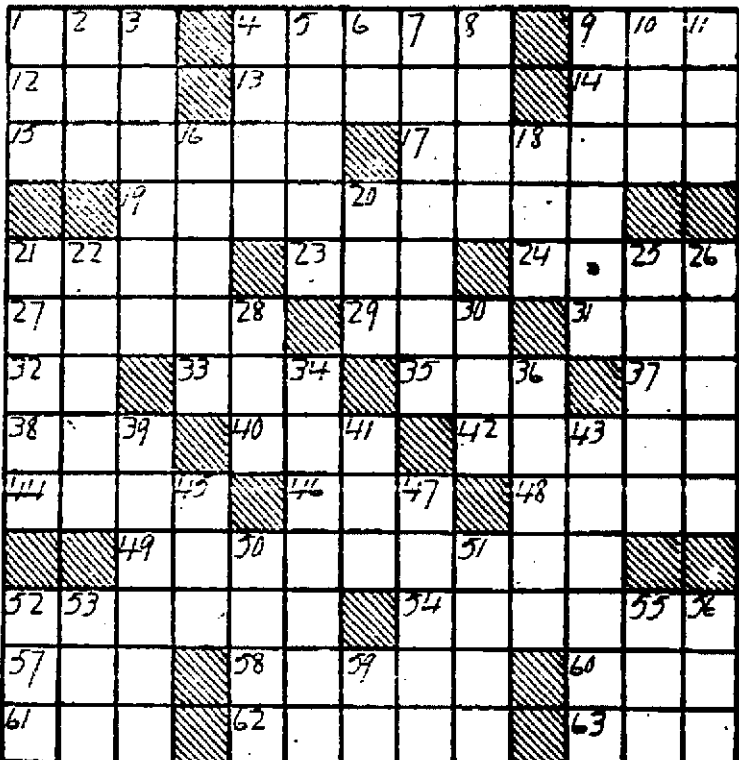

In sand below the picture writing were found quantities of arrowheads and teeth of bear, beaver, elk and deer.

Y. M. C. A. Will Have Open House

Something Doing Every Minute from 9 A. M. to 10 P. M.—Program covers Wide Range—Everybody Is Invited.

The usual New Year's custom will be carried out again by the Y. M. C. A. on January 2. A program that will be "Bigger and Better" is in process of preparation and something will be doing every minute throughout the day from 9 a. m. to 10 p. m.

This is "Open House" which is annually observed. The morning program for and by the boys in the Boys' social rooms and gymnasium will be most interesting. A special entertainment for the boys will be given at 11 o'clock in the morning. The fathers are cordially invited to be present and witness the boys enjoying themselves.

The physical program of the day is as follows: At 10 a. m. a big track meet will be held by the grade schools. At 1:30 p. m. Port Ewen will play the Walden basketball team. At 3:30 the Chandeliers will play the Newburgh basketball team, and at 5 p. m. the Y's Men's Club volleyball team will play "The World". A great deal of attention and work has been given by both the Boys' Department and the Physical Department to help make the entire day interesting for those who will avail themselves of the opportunity by coming to the Y. M. C. A.

The climax of the day will be reached in the evening when a very strong program to which everybody is invited above 16 years of age (children below 14 must be accompanied by adults or parents) will be given. The Y's Men's Club will have exclusive charge of the evening's schedule which will start at 7:45 p. m. The club members have worked hard for the last few weeks to make this occasion a most successful one. Among the features to be produced are a ministry by talented and experienced young men, a play entitled "Hamlet" and "The American" who will give a number of his musical operettas. The entire program for the evening is made up of local talent. That is not all. Everybody knows Paul Zucca and his famous orchestra, they will have a large part in the entertainment.

The program will be interspersed by instrumental solos and duets. The Y. M. C. A. wishes to hereby invite you, your family and friends and also would like you to help in bringing out as many as possible. Last year four hundred people were in the gymnasium on a similar occasion. The officials hope to have a still bigger group this year.

Remember this is "Open House" and no admission will be charged to any of the functions of the day.

LAST NIGHT on the RADIO

Clear reception again Thursday evening and a due chance to learn all about the merits of shoes, automobiles, carpet sweepers, rough drops, coffee, whiststones and many other things.

Especially good DX stations were WGN, WLW, WJH, WJAN, WHT, WGBB and WSM. "Lohengrin" was clearest from KDKA.

Saugerties Bank Dividend. The Saugerties Bank at a meeting of the directors Wednesday declared a dividend of 2 per cent on the earnings for the past six months, and a dividend at the rate of 4 1/2 per cent per annum in the savings department of the bank. The dividends are payable after the first of January.

Fire At Cementon. The Cornwell Fire Company of Saugerties responded to a call for aid Thursday morning for a fire in a house situated near the river at Cementon. The fire originated in the chimney, and was brought under control before the Saugerties firemen arrived.

Banquet of Ulster Supervisors

Work Together for County's Good. Judge Russell briefly outlined the powers and the possibilities of the functions of the board of supervisors and spoke of the individual responsibilities of the individual member to his community and to the board as a whole. He stated that the place for the battle of the day was in the town to select the best man and then after election it should be the duty of the supervisor to forget political parties to such an extent that all worked together for the good of the county and its taxpayers.

In the administration of the county's business, he urged that politics be forgotten where they interfered with the conduct of the county's business. Whether an idea was originated by a Republican or a Democrat mattered not if it were for the benefit of the county at large. To the winner belonged the spoils to the extent that no party could be blamed for making any appointments which are to be made from its own party ranks, but once the appointments were made he urged all to work together in unison. Harmony for the county good was the end which should be striven for.

Ulster Rich in Everything. With Ulster county's natural resources, its good railroads, good means of travel by rail and by water as well as by highway should make Ulster county one of the most prosperous of the state. Its natural resources and its location was ideal. Situated at the foot of the Catskills, a great playground for the metropolitan area, he said that Kingston was ideally adapted to the use as the gateway to this great upland country. This boarding and vacation business was a great resource to the county and from his viewpoint Ulster county was rich in all things which a country needed to become well founded.

Of Kingston he also spoke. Since coming to Kingston he had taken the opportunity to travel about the city. He had discovered that Kingston was no mean city, it was larger than he had thought and comprised of really three business sections joined together, each with its own circle of usefulness. As you approach the city from the east, the city itself and the mountains beyond, extend a natural greeting to the traveler and the scenic grandeur of Ulster county is a great resource.

Rich in Able Men. Not only is Ulster county rich in scenery and natural resources but Kingston and Ulster county are also rich in the men they produce. Such high types of men as Judge Alton B. Parker, Judge James A. Betts, Philip Elding, Judge A. T. Clearwater and Judge G. D. B. Hasbrouck and many others are products of Ulster county and it is in this type of men which goes to make for a better community and a better country.

Van Wageningen Explains Supervisors. With the conclusion of Judge Russell's talk the regular program of the evening was brought to a close but as the evening was still young Toastmaster Davis called on several others who were not on the program and among them was Virgil B. Van Wageningen.

Mr. Van Wageningen proceeded to give one of the best talks of the entire evening. He opened up by stating that he was going to tell all present some things which they probably would not like. Bouquets had been in order and he was going to throw something else but bouquets. From a light vein he branched out into a serious talk which carried many thoughts for real consideration. He advocated the return to the board of supervisors some of the authority of which the board was gradually being shorn through the injection from time to time of bureaus at Albany which sapped the power from the board and which took to a great extent the right of home government. The board was getting to a point where it was told by someone at Albany what to do and the board said "yes". He advised some rebellion on the part of the board and a return to power as of old. Centralization of power had gradually robbed the board of much of its power and that same effect had been felt at Albany where power was being lost through higher up centralization of power at Washington. He expressed his hope that local legislatures would rebel against this trend toward centralization of power and authority and expressed his hope that local conditions might be handled by local authority exercised by local legislatures who would more truly represent local men and local conditions.

How Farmers Should Rejoice. To the farmers he also handed out some real food for thought. The farmer was the greatest pessimist in existence. He never had a good crop, he never secured good prices for his produce and he was constantly telling how farming was going to the dogs. This attitude, the speaker said, was not good for the farmer's business and he advised a reform.

In closing he urged independence in the county, getting away from the theories of theorists at Albany and Washington who were not acquainted with local conditions. It would be good for the county and good for the taxpayers, he said. Too much butting in at Albany was injuring the county and robbing the taxpayers of their right to some voice in their affairs at home.

McManus Scores for Farmers. Thomas J. McManus, political war horse of southern Ulster, was also called upon to speak. He proceeded to give the farmers their inning. In his characteristic manner he told of the many things which the farmers have done for their country and said they were the backbone of the country, they had fired the shot heard round the world, they had won the Civil War and in a great extent had won the World War. The freeing of the negro and the winning of the World War would not have been possible except for the farmer who produced the crops and in a great many instances also bore a gun. In closing he told a humorous story which was particularly adapted to illustrate his point that the toastmaster had called on the wrong man when he called on him for a speech. However, the audience disagreed with Mr. McManus on that point.

Edwert Suggests a Remedy.

Former County Attorney John W. Edwert was also called on. He agreed on some points with Mr. Van Wageningen in that too much centralization of power was not good but to some extent it was. He urged all men and women to take part in politics and referred to those who do not, as men and women who shirk a duty. During his long connection with the board of supervisors as county attorney Mr. Edwert said he had learned much and had enjoyed his connection with the lawmakers of the county. He owed the board of supervisors a great debt for the things which he had learned and he owed to the county of Ulster a still greater debt.

He referred to the power of bureaus as spoken of by former speakers and said that if every person took an active part in politics these bureaus would not have the power today which they now have. It would not be necessary. To see if the old town meetings had lost their activities and "pep", he urged Mr. Van Wageningen to come to Shandaken and witness there the struggle for supervisor or some other important town office and he would find that the towns were still active at town meetings and in town politics.

Honor Deceased Members.

The meeting was brought to a close when Clerk Henry R. DeWitt read a list of those members of the association who had died since the last meeting and in their honor the entire audience stood in silence for one minute. Those who have gone are:

Benjamin F. Dickson, supervisor. Charles E. Conklin, supervisor. Patrick F. McDermott, supervisor. Joseph Schuler, supervisor. Judge James Jenkins, former county attorney and former county judge.

Howard Chipp, former clerk of the board. John G. Van Etten, former county judge.

John S. Rosecrans, supervisor. Thomas J. Leonard, supervisor. Simon B. Van Wageningen, former supervisor and former Member of Assembly.

The assemblage broke up with the singing of "Till We Meet Again".

When Do You Call A Physician?

Many ailing people attempt to doctor themselves when they think their case is not serious enough to call a physician.

Some imagine their symptoms exactly the same as a friend or neighbor, and use their remedy.

Others ask their druggist to prescribe for them. If he does he makes a handsome profit and the benefits are doubtful.

Still others use patent medicine advertisements as their doctor, also with doubtful results.

After all these have failed, the doctor is called and his work is so much harder because of the delay.

NOW!

Call your physician first, benefit by his experience and skill. Take your prescriptions to

LIVE BUSINESS MEN ADVERTISE IN THE FREEMAN

Xmas at the T. B. Hospital

Patients Entertained With Moving Program and Gifts Thursday Night—Many Contributed Money and Articles—List of Contributions for Month.

Probably no institution within the bounds of Ulster county has so grown into the hearts of the people as the Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital, where, in addition to the bed patients there are so many shut-ins who are making a brave fight toward renewed health. Each Christmas the patients at that hospital have been very generously remembered by their friends in the community, in answer to the notice of the Christmas festivities as published in The Freeman. But this year, the response has been far more generous than at any time before. The spirit of friendliness and order and tender care at the hospital has been such as to offer a rare appreciation of all the kindness expressed for the patients and those who serve so faithfully there.

The Christmas entertainment, with the distribution of gifts, took place at the hospital on Thursday evening, and a beautiful program was given by members of the Business Girls Club of the Y. W. C. A. and Miss Anne Burns in charge of dramas at the Kingston High School.

The patients were all grouped on the upper porch, the pretty Christmas trees in the reception room and out of doors were lighted, the piano had been moved up near the door of the porch, when the entertainers arrived.

The Entertainment Program.

The following program was given very greatly to the delight of all of the patients well enough to be present, while those on the lower floor were able to hear and enjoy the music.

Soprano Solo, "The Infant Jesus" by Von, by Miss Eva Hand.

Reading, "The Story of the Magi," by Miss Burns.

Vocal Duets, "April Morn" by Dutton and "Passage Birds" Farewell" by Hildach, by Miss Jessie Cowley and Miss Mildred Messinger, accompanied by Miss Ruth Scott.

Encore, "My Little Sunflower" (Recitation, "Grandma Will Pay," by Miss Burns.

Soprano Solo, "There's a Song in the Air," by Martin, sung by Miss Hand.

Encore, "O Little Town of Bethlehem" (Hem).

Mrs. Rice, president of the Kingston Y. W. C. A., and Miss Jane Van Etten, secretary, accompanied the group from the Y. W. C. A., while Mrs. Thomas Hayes and Mrs. Edmonston were guests also.

Following the program, Mrs. Reed, in behalf of the people of Ulster county, greeted the patients and expressed the pleasure felt by all in helping to make Christmas at the Tuberculosis Hospital as happy as it possibly could be. The gifts were then distributed to the nineteen patients, the three nurses and helpers.

Xmas Fund Contributors.

Those who generously contributed the money with which gifts were purchased were: Mrs. E. G. Adams, Mrs. James A. Betts, Mrs. H. Behrens, Mrs. May Gordon, Mrs. Mary T. Decker, Mrs. Sam Kramer, Miss Shute, Mrs. Minnie Fatum, Mr. Marion Charles H. Safford, in memory of Faith Safford, Mrs. Annie E. Darling, a friend, Mrs. John Forsyth, Mrs. Louis Hoyerstadt, Twentieth Century Club, Mrs. Cranston, Miss Adelaide E. Main, Miss Fannie R. Main, Mrs. Dutton, Mrs. E. Van Dyke Baten, Mrs. A. M. Slauson, Mrs. Frederick Warren, Miss Hattie Safford, Mrs. J. S. Baisden, in memory of Mabel Baisden, Little Card Club through Mrs. Bartram Houghtaling, Mrs. Arthur E. Fronefield's twin children, Miss Cora O'Neill, Mrs. C. E. Hasbrouck, Mrs. Newton H. Fessenden, a friend.

Clothing was generously contributed by S. Cohen's Sons', clothiers, while the following merchants gave ample discounts on articles purchased for the Tuberculosis Hospital Christmas: Morris Kaplan Furniture Store, McBride's Drug Store, Dedrick Drug Store, Rose and Company, E. Winter's Sons, Kenneth Everett, T. A. Bennett's Sons, grocers.

Gifts Purchased.

With the money so contributed, the following gifts were made possible: a requested gift for each patient, a remembrance for each member of the hospital staff and the help: a crisp new dollar bill for each patient; five new piano rolls, four new Victrola records and one Orthophonic record of the Associated Glee Clubs of America; a year's subscription to the New York Daily and Sunday World and The Ladies' Home Journal; and a new chair for the patients' reception room. The chair, similar to a Morris chair, is of mahogany finish, upholstered with deep blue leatherette, and can be manipulated into a reclining chair or may be used in upright position.

Other Gifts.

There was also $10 for the Patients' Emergency and Welfare fund.

Other gifts were received with gratitude as follows: From Mrs. D. E. Keyser, Victrola records and books; box of candy, Mrs. D. Wetterhahn; Miss Ida Kerr, hand-knitted woolen stockings; Buddy and Virginia Perry, a game; a friend, hankkerchiefs; knitted bed room slippers, Mrs. H. Behrens; Mrs. Roberts, piano rolls; magazines, Miss Hattie Safford; a year's subscription to The Saturday Evening Post from Mr. and Mrs. Henry D. Lampman; a large raisin cake from a friend. The packages were gaily tied up by Blanche Robinson and Anna Hotelling. Through the kindness of Millard DuBois and Miss Hagelweide, those who took part in the entertainment

SKATING CHAMPIONSHIPS AT NEWBRIGHT MONDAY

The Middle Atlantic Outdoor Speed Skating championships will be held at Newbright Park, Newburgh, Monday, January 2. It is expected that a large assemblage of fans will attend to see some of the activities which expect to complete. Among the favorites so far are Edith V. Van Dine, Belarus, captain of the American Olympic team, and James Egan of New York, another Olympic skater. The skaters, whose names are listed, are where skating competitions are staged, and where skating is a popular winter sport. Among the winners of last year's Middle Atlantic Outdoor championships and holders of the international honors, will be on hand to defend his title. He is considered himself at St. John, N. B., where weather conditions have not been very favorable for him. The Newburgh Skating Association is at present raising funds to help defray the expenses of the Olympic team. Last year the downtown city donated $500.

Amber Known to Eskimos

Amber is a fossilized vegetable resin occurring in small quantities in the more recent geological formations in many parts of the American continent. So far as known it was little used by the Indians, except the Eskimos of Alaska, who made small ornaments of amber. They obtained it chiefly from the alluvium of the Yukon delta.

Children's Xmas At St. John's

On Wednesday evening, Holy Innocents Day, the children of the church school of St. John's, Kingston, had their Christmas service and festival in the church and parish house.

The children and their parents and friends were warmly welcomed by the church and parish house. The children were seated in the front of the church and the parents and friends in the rear. The service was conducted by the Rev. Mr. Hadden, who read the lesson and gave the prayer. The children sang the hymns and recited the verses. The service was a most successful one and the children were very happy.

Presently there appeared the angels, with their white robes and halos, singing the hymn "Angels We Have Heard of Thee." The children were very much interested in the angels and their singing. The service was a most successful one and the children were very happy.

After the service, the children were treated to a Christmas dinner. The dinner was very delicious and the children were very happy. The service was a most successful one and the children were very happy.

brought Santa Claus into the room with his bag of toys and a list of the children's names. Santa Claus was very kind and gave each child a present. The children were very happy and the service was a most successful one.

Then came an unexpected play in which the children acted out the story of the Nativity. The play was very well acted and the children were very happy. The service was a most successful one and the children were very happy.

New Plan for Youth Conference

The annual Youth State-Wide Conference under the auspices of the New York State Sunday School Association which draws 600 young people and their adult leaders from churches all over the state will follow a new plan when it meets in Ithaca for a week-end conference on Cornell University campus, February 19-22. Instead of the usual predominance of inspirational addresses which are general and often leave the conference delegates "up in the air", a change in program will give more time to instruction in smaller groups under competent leadership.

The 600 delegates will be divided into groups of forty each. The adults will meet by themselves. Young people's groups will contain an equal number of young men and women. They will discuss personal problems in religion and morals. The new method lays emphasis on discovering practical steps to be taken by the young people when they return home. Twice as much time will be consumed in defining the problems under discussion and in planning definite and constructive action in their solution as will be given to the platform addresses which furnish information and inspiration.

The topics for discussion this year include: "Prayer and Popularity," "What Price Popularity?," "The Church and Personal Enrichment," and "Christ in My Community." Many young people who have taken a few science courses in college have the idea that prayer is useless. Some high school students have caught this idea from the colleges. At the same time many young people have formed the opinion that to pray is to be laughed at. Prayer is considered unpopular by some young people. The delegates attending the State Youth Conference at Ithaca will make a beginning of understanding the life of prayer in an age of science and "rah-rah-popularity."

The Dying Year.

The year is old—the roses are high. And somber dials beckon the sky. And dry reeds quiver in the blast. And songs of lark and thrush are past.

The hills beyond rear gaunt and bare.

And meads are bleak—trees everywhere.

Are barren. Leaves and windy ways—

Grim ghosts of sunny yesterdays.

The clouds hang low; the winds are harsh.

And yonder in December's marsh. Where purple flags were wont to grow.

The sun reflects cold afterglow.

A requiem is sung at night Through branches leafless by the blight.

Of winter's frost. The hearth's embers fold.

Keeps beckoning—the year is old.

Some die young while others don't drink at all.

Success in accident prevention is not gained by lying awake at night; but by keeping awake in the day time.

Most brides expect to keep in all the little luxuries to which they haven't been accustomed.

All men are equal, but the talents women have for getting their own way are varied.

Dan—Where are you off to, Ben?

Ben—I'm going to see the doctor.

I don't like the look of my wife.

Dan—I'll come with you—I don't like the look of mine.

Happiness is only a relative term. No doubt the laborer with a roof over his head and a babe on his knee is having as good a time as the society queen with her diamonds and pet poodle.

Trucks 12% of Motor Vehicles

Owners Operate 80 Per Cent of Them—Trucks Compete With Railroads Only For Short Hauls—Majority Are of Lighter Type.

Approximately 12 per cent of all motor vehicles in the United States are motor trucks, 80 per cent of which are operated by their owners. Farmers owned 20 per cent of the 2,764,222 trucks in use at the beginning of the past year.

These and many other facts about the extent of present day haulage of commodities over the highways are contained in a booklet "Truck Facts", just published by the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce.

That trucks compete with railroads only for short haul traffic is shown by the statement of the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads that in various states 81 to 91 per cent of all motor truck trips are for distances of less than 30 miles. Only 5 to 19 per cent of all trips are for distances of more than 60 miles. The average trip mileage of loaded trucks ranges from 23 per cent in Connecticut to 31 miles in California.

Recognizing the economy of operating trucks for short distance handling of commodities, 46 railroads are now using them in terminal operations, 15 use them for store-door deliveries and 11 have replaced local freight trains with trucks.

Government traffic surveys report that the major part of motor truck tonnage is a direct distribution of commodities to their final use. In Cook county, Illinois, 70 per cent of the tonnage carried by trucks is of this type. Products of manufacture constitute the largest part of truck tonnage, amounting to 69 per cent of the total in Connecticut and 55.9 per cent in Ohio. An overwhelming majority of the trucks used are of the lighter types, from 77 to 86 per cent of all trucks on the highways in Maine, Pennsylvania, Connecticut and Cook County, Illinois, having capacities of two-and-a-half tons or less.

Common carrier trucks haul only from six to eight per cent of all tonnage moved over the highways. Interstate common carriers handle, but one to two per cent of the total tonnage hauled.

In 33 states motor trucks at the beginning of 1927 constituted 11 per cent of total motor vehicle registration and paid nearly 23 per cent of the registration fees. An even larger percentage of the gasoline taxes was paid by trucks, due to heavier per mile consumption.

Whippet will be the most valuable car ever offered for so little money

John R. Willys
President, The Willys-Overland Company

AFTER months of preparation, we are ready to present the perfected Whippet for 1928.

You will be satisfied and delighted with every detail of its equipment and performance. You will be amazed when you learn how low is the price. For Willys-Overland resources and equipment are now such that no car of equal quality can be built and sold at a lower price.

Engineering Leadership

Present light car standards are a tribute to the pioneering the Whippet has done. Four-wheel brakes—lower center of gravity—greater economy—greater roominess—quieter engines—faster speed and pick-up—greater beauty—no one today would think of buying a car that had not made these advances.

Many Added Features

Among the many things you will like in the 1928 Whippet are improved bodies in a wide variety of beautiful colors, and fitted with cadet-type visor, full crown fenders, an engine that doubles its rated horse-power, full pressure lubrication, silent timing chain, gasoline tank in rear, long, semi-elliptic springs, oversize balloon tires and snubbers, an adjustable steering wheel, automatic windshield wiper, rear view mirror and stop light.

Remarkable Records

Owners have driven and tested the Whippet for more than five hundred million miles. It has established record after record in proof of its superiority. It holds the A. A. A. Coast-to-Coast economy record, averaging 43.28 miles to the gallon. It set a record of 71.6 miles an hour in a speed test on Rockingham Park Speedway. It accelerates from 5 to 30 miles in 11.5 seconds; turns in a 17-foot radius, and parks in 14 feet of curb space.

We suggest you see the Whippet and get the new price next Friday.

Watchnight at Redeemer Church

As an innovation a communion service will be held in conjunction with the annual Watchnight Service to be held at Redeemer Lutheran Church, Warts and Rogers streets. Prof. Roberts, the organist, will give a short organ recital at 10:15 p. m. The service will open at 11 p. m. It is hoped that as the old year is passing out and the new year dawning in that the church members and friends will be at the altar.

The preparatory service will be held preceding the communion service.

The pastor will preach a short sermon on "Speak to the Children of Israel That They Go Forward." This is a most appropriate text for many who find themselves in a difficult situation similar to that of the Israelites of many years ago.

The musical program will be as follows:

Choral Prelude on "When I Survey the Wondrous Cross".....Parry
Meditation, Elegy.....Borowski
Vocal Solo, "Open the Gates to the Temple".....J. F. Knapp
MISS ETHEL SCHLECHT.

New Botanic Branch

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creosolone, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creosolone is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membrane and kills the germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agents for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creosolone, besides, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membrane and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the root of the trouble and checks the growth of the germ.

Creosolone is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory distress, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

ROSENDALE.

Rosendale, Dec. 30.—On Friday, December 23, a very enjoyable Christmas party was held at the Rosendale Union Free School. An unusually large attendance of parents and friends who heard the program were loud in their praise and appreciation of Miss Helen R. White and Miss Vera C. Barnum, principal and teacher, who so diligently trained the children. Christmas trees and other seasonable decorations greatly added to the spirit of the occasion. The program was as follows:

Song, O Come All Ye Faithful. By the School.
Recitation, Christmas Welcome. Harold Henze.
Recitation, Welcome. Patricia Burns.
Recitation, Welcome. Lena Harris.
Song, Away in a Manger the Silent Night. The Girls.
Recitation, Getting Ready for Santa. Clara Dellay.
Recitation, My Christmas Stocking. Lillian Bagant.
Recitation, Santa Claus. Sidney Greenberg.
Recitation, His First Speech. Francis Connell.
Song, It Came Upon the Midnight Clear. By the School.
Recitation, If I Were a Shepherd Boy. Romanus Dellay.
Recitation, December. Louis Burns.
Recitation, The Xmas Atmosphere. Barbara Phillips.
Song, I Heard the Bells on Xmas Day. By the School.
Recitation, Gifts and Needs. Able Goldwasser.
Recitation, A Note to Santa. Sam Hermance.
Recitation, A Christmas Bedtime Story. Dorothy Miles.
Recitation, Christmas Thoughts. Lillie May Coleman.
Drill and Rays of the Xmas Star. Ten Girls, assisted by Marie Delaney.
Dolores Re, Clara Nedin.
Recitation, My Say. Adele Etinger.
Recitation, Quite Like a Stocking. Gerard Buckley.
Recitation, The Christmas Doctor. Melvin Fein.
Recitation, Kitty's Present. Aurelia Bender.
Song, Hark, the Herald Angels Sing. By School.
Recitation, Christmas Sunshine Bringers. Eugene Nedin, Walter Bagans, Jos. Ahrenalliat, Frank Lapointe.
Recitation, Adoration of Wise Men. Clara Dellay.
Recitation, I Can Spell Christmas. Margaret Lippert.
Songs, Upon the House Top and Jingle Bells. The Boys.
Recitation, Better Bunnies at Xmas time. Donald C. Ten Hagen.
Recitation, My Papa's Way. Gerard Creeden.
Recitation, A Visit from St. Nicholas. Aurelia Bender.
Recitation, Tom's Xmas Surprise. John Connelly.
Recitation, Bobby's Query. Raymond Kopp.
Song, The First Noel. Miss Barnum, assisted by School.
Xmas Greetings from Stubby Dog and Me. Donald C. Ten Hagen.
Drill, Miss Pointsettia. Twelve Girls.
Song, Oh, Little Town of Bethlehem. By the School.
Distribution of gifts and serving of ice cream, cake and candy to the children completed a delightful Christmas party.

Every dream is a prophecy. In the womb of time it will be fashioned into reality.

FIRE DESTROYED BARN AND HOUSE ON NEWCOMB ESTATE

The large barn and tenant house on the estate of former Senator Josiah T. Newcomb, at Noxon, Dutchess county, valued at $25,000 were destroyed by fire Wednesday. The fire which broke out at about 2:45 a. m. also consumed four cows, a valuable bull, three ponies, numerous pigs and two automobiles. Seven occupants of the tenant house barely escaped with their lives and left possessions to the flames.

Efforts to combat the fire were futile. The Arlington fire department and neighbors could set no water to fight the flames as the streams in the vicinity were frozen. Fourteen cows were driven from the barn with several horses before the flames prevented entrance. Telephone service was cut off for a time when a pole carrying a high tension direct line caught fire from the building.

Senator Newcomb and his family were enroute from Washington, D. C. to the estate Wednesday but when they arrived found the razed buildings. The buildings were insured for $20,000.

Natural Harbor

Scape Flow is a small body of water almost inclosed by the Orkney Islands. It is about fourteen miles long and varies from three to eight miles in width. The principal channels leading out are they sound into the Atlantic ocean and Helms sound into the North sea.

Cat Was Not On Program. There was one incident in connection with the Nativity scene not on the program of a recent Christmas entertainment in this city but so appealing as to be worthy of mention. Just as the service began, a little white kitten softly entered the church and as softly and unobtrusively made its way into the chancel, stopping to look into what later was seen to be the manger. Then it came back into the body of the church, choose some particular friendly person, curling up on the kneeling bench, went fast asleep and the service was over. The children were as remarkable as the little kitten, for not a child laughed or did aught else but look with wonder at the little, friendly animal, which seemed so much a part of the scene.

Open House at Legion Building

There will be open house at the American Legion Memorial Building, 15 West O'Reilly street, on Monday, January 2, from 2 to 6 p. m.

The entire public is invited to inspect the building which was erected by the people of Kingston and vicinity as a memorial to those who gave their lives in the World War. Visitors will conduct visitors through the building and answer questions as to the purpose and work of the American Legion.

Pictures of the principal American cemeteries in France are the latest additions to the objects of historical value which the building will eventually house. These pictures are now open for public inspection for the first time.

Members of the Legion and all ex-servicemen and their families are cordially invited to spend a social hour together at the Legion building on Monday afternoon. A great many Legionnaires have never visited their own home. These men are urged to bring their wives and mothers and enjoy the hospitality of the Legion and to see for themselves what a beautiful, comfortable, inspiring place the memorial building really is.

WILBUR TEAMS PLAY AT CHESTER TONIGHT

The Wilbur boys and girls basketball teams will travel to Chester this evening. The manager of the Wilbur team will bring the following players: Joyce, Merritt and Lynch, forwards; Hyatt, center; McCordie, Black and Shick, guards. The Wilbur girls will play the preliminary game. Bus leaves Lynch's lunch room at 6:15 and Central Post Office at 6:30.

Warringtons At Hunter.
Tonight the Warringtons will go to Hunter to play the team of that place. This is the second game for the Warringtons there. All members are to be at the Central Post Office at 6 o'clock.

Tickets for the dance to be held January 6 at the Pythian Hall in Port Ewen are for sale now from any member. Tony Turck will furnish the music.

Kingston to Play at Troy

Mickey Husta's Kingston team will oppose the Troy Metropolitan League quintet in the upstate city tonight. It is not likely that the local representatives will have much trouble taking the bacon from the Trojans whom they recently defeated at the armory here, 42-26. A stiff battle is expected to be the result of the meeting here Monday, January 2, when the Visitations will oppose the Husta brigade. It was erroneously announced that the Kingston and Visitation quintets would meet in Brooklyn Sunday, January 1. The mistake was made at headquarters when the schedule was drawn up.

Will Increase Seating Capacity of Stadium

The seating capacity of the Yankee stadium for football purposes next year will be increased to 35,000, it was announced by Ed Darrow, business manager of the Yankees. The additions to the permanent stands will be finished in time for the opening baseball game of 1928, while the enlargement of the temporary football stands will be ready before the first gridiron contest next fall. The additional seats will be erected on the left field side of the park. The maximum upper stand will be extended seven sections, while the temporary stands for football will be increased by more than 2,500. The right-field boxes will be removed to permit 3,000 additional seats, making a total of 35,000 extra seats.

JEFFRIES STOPPED CORBETT IN CAMP

Previously Unwritten Chapter of History Disclosed.

Disclosing a bit of previously unwritten fight history, Jim Jeffries, in a chapter on his career, published in a recent issue of Liberty, relates how he knocked out Jim Corbett while the latter was preparing for the fight in which he lost the heavyweight title to Bob Fitzsimmons in 1887.

The knockout, as Jeffries tells the story, occurred when he first put the gloves on with Corbett in the latter's training camp at Carson City, Nev. Accounts of the meeting at that time and since, however, has credited Corbett with knocking out Jeffries, then a raw but powerful youngster recruited from a Los Angeles boiler shop to serve as a sparring partner for Corbett.

"Corbett didn't knock me out; I knocked him out," Jeffries is quoted as saying.

"The story that he knocked me out was just a baloney for the fight—to worry Fitzsimmons and boost Corbett's stock by crediting him with a knockout punch. Delaney (Corbett's manager) told me to say nothing and to be sure not to contradict it if anyone asked me and I never did."

According to Jeffries' version of the affair, which occurred behind locked doors, his temper was aroused by an attempt to have him expose his chin for a knockout blow from Corbett.

They wanted to see if Corbett had a punch and they got me to step in and leave my chin uncovered while he took a punch at me. It made me mad to know I'd been tricked. My lip was cut against my teeth, but Corbett never knew it. I rushed him and mixed for a minute, then I got a punch over. I hit him and knocked him against the wall so hard he nearly went through.

"Then I pasted him a couple of good ones to keep him there and his hands dropped. He was done for and another punch would have finished him. They rushed in and pulled me away and gave me time to cool off. There wasn't any more boxing that day."

Comet's Appearance

The tail of a comet is generally directed away from the sun, whether the comet is approaching the sun or receding from it. It is believed that the tail consists of extremely rarefied matter which is thrown off by the comet and then powerfully repelled by the sun. It is called the tail on account of its appearance.

Actress Shot or Beaten to Death

Body of Mrs. Mary Harrington, vaudeville actress, found in her Upper West Side New York Apartment.

New York, Dec. 20 (AP).—The mysterious murder of a vaudeville actress, who either was shot or beaten to death in her upper west side apartment, occupied the attention of police today.

The body of Mrs. Mary Harrington, 29, was found by neighbors on the bathroom floor early yesterday, but the fact that the woman had been murdered was not determined by police until almost twelve hours later.

An early theory that Mrs. Harrington died from a nasal hemorrhage was discarded by the police when Assistant Medical Examiner Miles discovered a wound over the left eye. He could not determine whether it had been caused by a bullet or a blow.

Belief that robbery might have been the motive for the slaying was expressed by police when they learned that expensive jewelry which Mrs. Harrington had been seen wearing could not be found, along with her pocketbook and the keys to the apartment.

Mrs. Harrington was the wife of Guy Harrington, well known stock company actor, manager, against whom she had filed suit for divorce in Binghamton, N. Y. Harrington failed to contest the suit and final decree was expected next month. Mrs. Harrington had been awarded $10,000.

Harrington, whose engagement to Mrs. Grace Lake of Binghamton recently was announced in newspapers at Wilkes-Barre, Pa., said in that city last night that he had been separated from his wife for several years and had not seen her heard from her in two years. He is filling a stock engagement in the Pennsylvania city.

When found the front of the woman's gown was covered with dried blood and this led to the belief that she had died of a hemorrhage. Discovery of the hole over the left eye started a police investigation. Detectives said they discovered several gashes on the woman's head and blood on the bathroom walls. This latter fact, they declared, indicated that a struggle had taken place.

Detectives said they were told by a neighbor that she thought she heard a scream from Mrs. Harrington's apartment late Thursday afternoon, but when she went to investigate found the door locked and everything quiet.

Mrs. Harrington was the actress's second wife and had played prominent parts with him in stock productions in Binghamton years ago. She had visited Binghamton recently, leaving there a few days ago to visit her mother in Joplin, Mo. She told friends she planned to stop in New York to arrange for the closing of her apartment.

Gorgeous Night Club Dismantled

Federal Agents Raid Chez Helen Morgan and Load Elaborate Fixtures and Furnishings on Motor Trucks.

New York, Dec. 20 (AP).—The most gorgeous night club, was dismantled by federal prohibition agents early today after they arrested Miss Morgan and eight male employees, seized a dozen bottles of liquor and spent two and one-half hours questioning 305 guests.

The elaborate fixtures and furnishings, valued at $50,000, were loaded on six motor trucks and carried to a warehouse.

Prohibition Administrator Maurice Campbell, who headed the raiding party of 25 agents, said five agents had been gathering evidence against the club for the last week. He refused to discuss his action in dismantling the establishment.

The club, located in West 54th street, just off Broadway, was crowded with men and women in formal dress when the agents entered at 1:30 o'clock. Miss Morgan, the club's hostess, is an actress and has appeared in many Broadway productions.

In a rear room the agents said they found a bar equipped with the most expensive fixtures, but they were unable to find any large quantities of liquor.

The raid attracted several hundred persons who gathered outside the building and hoed the agents as they supervised the loading of the club's fixtures.

Hope to Enter DeGarmo's Shop Hull of S-4 Damaged by Fire

Progress Depends Entirely Upon Weather Conditions—Bodies of Several Victims May Be Brought to the Surface.

Birmingham, Dec. 20 (AP).—Hopes to enter the hull of the sunken S-4 submarine today for the first time, since the sunken vessel went down with 10 officers and men nearly two weeks ago.

Whether the bodies of the 10 men will depend entirely upon weather conditions. Bodies of some were seen last night at Monument Hill and the men were seen and taken to the surface yesterday. Operations were halted yesterday by the gale but before the second tunnel under the hull through which raising chains are to be passed had been almost completed.

The way was thus cleared for unwatering operations and the sealing of the S-4's compartments preparatory to lifting to pontoons.

There was a possibility that bodies of several of the victims might be brought to the surface today.

Divers and officers of the salvage fleet have been studying the big pontoons to familiarize themselves with their construction and handling.

Work today was in charge of Captain Ernest P. King in the absence of Rear Admiral Frank H. Brumby, control force commander, who returned to New London, Conn., for a change of clothing.

It was the first time the admiral had quit the scene except for brief conferences at Boston with Rear Admiral Philip Andrews, commandant of the First Naval District.

When he left New London, Admiral Brumby had only an hour's notice and wore the clothes he had on.

Predict Cold Wave Rain and Snow

Washington, Dec. 20 (AP).—It appeared to weather sharps today that 1927 would be ushered out on a cold wave in the eastern states accompanied by rain and snow.

Generally, the outlook for the last day of the year in the east was considerably overcast with rain, changing to snow in the lake region.

St. Louis, Dec. 20 (AP).—Because of adverse weather conditions, the flight of Mrs. Evangeline Lindbergh from St. Louis to Detroit, the first leg of her return journey from Mexico City, where she spent Christmas with her son, Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, was postponed today until tomorrow.

CANZONERI WILL HAVE FOUR POUND ADVANTAGE

New York, Dec. 20 (AP).—Tony Canzoneri, New York featherweight, will have a four pound advantage over Bud Taylor, of Terre Haute, Ind., when they meet in a ten round bout at Madison Square Garden tonight. At the weighing in this afternoon Canzoneri scaled 125½, against 131½ for Taylor.

The winner of the bout will be recognized in New York as the featherweight champion.

Ace Hudkins Reinstated. New York, Dec. 20 (AP).—Ace Hudkins, the Nebraska "wildcat" and welterweight contender was reinstated by the New York Boxing Commission today after a long period of suspension in this state.

CRIMINOLOGISTS ANALYZE HICKMAN'S FACE

Central photo shows how crime experts analyze features of William Edward Hickman, alleged slayer of Marian Parker of Los Angeles. Marked differences are seen in ears, eyebrows, eyes and lips. PORT EWEN

Port Ewen, Dec. 30.—A watch night service will be held Saturday evening, December 31, in the lecture room of the Reformed Church and will be in charge of the Christian Endeavor Society. The entertainment will commence at 9 o'clock. Organizations of the community have been united and an interesting program is in store for those who are present. A special invitation is extended to the members of the Methodist Church to be present.

A great many in this place are suffering with grip colds. All members of the Reformed Church are reminded it is time to renew subscriptions to the Christian Intelligence and Mission Field. By club rate subscription is much cheaper. They may send or hand their renewal to Edwin H. Hummel on Broadway who is the authorized agent for the same. Lucratha Rebekah Lodge will hold a dance in Odd Fellows' Hall Friday evening, January 13. A jolly good time awaits everyone who attends. Refreshments on sale. Those wishing to attend the union service in the Episcop Methodist Church Sunday evening will kindly notify the pastor of the Methodist Church, the Rev. C. G. Gorse, by Saturday evening.

Praise Youthful Singer.

Miss Rose Petersen, 11 years old, of Rosendale, has received many compliments upon the splendid rendition of the hymn, "Adeste Fideles" at midnight Mass in St. Peter's Roman Catholic Church, Rosendale, Christmas. She was accompanied on the organ by Mrs. F. Rafferty, organist of the church. Many singers of this section, including Mrs. William H. Rieser, have remarked the sweetness of the child's voice.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Dec. 30 (AP).—Further irregularity developed in today's stock market with trading fluctuating about the approach of the holiday. The undertone was fairly firm with pools active in a number of issues which are likely to attract relatively small funds after the turn of the year. Having centered largely in the selected assortment of food, industrial steel, office supply, copper, tobacco and public utility shares. Little attention was paid to the retention of relatively stiff call money rates and the sharp increase in Federal Reserve brokers' loans. Among the more or so issues to break into new high ground for the year were Nash and Packard Motors, Inland Steel, Youngstown Sheet and Tube, Christie Brown, Detroit Edison, Simmons Company, International Business Machines, Coty, Life Savers and Mexican Petroleum. Rails were rather quiet. Delaware and Hudson advanced 2 points despite the Interstate Commerce Commission's rejection of the proposal of that road to lease the Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburgh, Lehigh Valley, "Cotton Belt" and "Nickel Plate" also recorded good gains.

Arkansas Cotton Gin One of Earliest Made

Rambling about the Ozark mountains, an artist of Little Rock, Ark., discovered an ancient cotton gin, said to be one hundred years old and one of the oldest of its tribe. Constructed on the same principle as the roller gin and other more modern improvements, this historic ginning device differs from later structural variations only in capacity. It literally represents the infancy of cotton ginning. Its construction is that of a box with one end open and the other end is fitted ingeniously with two rollers, one on top of the other. Between these cylinders the cotton was fed by hand. The opposite or eccentric motion of the half-hickory rollers, which are fitted so closely as to gin the cotton, is secured by the belting of the wheels on each side of the open end with the wheels at the ginning end. Turning of a wooden handle at the open end fitted to one of the wheels operates the device. The wheels are bigger at the open end of the box and are connected to the smaller drum by cotton cords.

Ohio Names Its Favorite Sons

In the Presidential Sweepstakes Through a Series of Party Meetings—Democrats Will Support Pomerene and Republicans Senator Willis. Columbus, Ohio, Dec. 30 (AP).—Ohio's favorite sons—Republican and Democratic—have been put out in a front in the presidential sweepstakes through a series of party meetings held during the past two days. Ohio Democracy has aligned itself for Allice Pomerene, former United States senator, but also has indicated that Governor Vic Donahey could have his vote in the presidential nominating convention if he became a candidate. Senator Frank B. Willis is the avowed Republican candidate in his state, and is confident that Ohio Republican leaders will back his candidacy.

The subcommittee of the Democratic state central and executive committees, meeting here yesterday, agreed that the state delegation will be pledged to Pomerene as first choice, with the understanding that any of any other Ohio candidate whose name may be presented to the national convention. This was taken to mean Governor Donahey would receive the delegation's support if his name were presented as a presidential candidate and that he would have that support as long as they might be a chance for his nomination.

The funeral of John F. Remus, building contractor, who died at the Kingston City Hospital Thursday, will be held from the late residence in St. Remy on Monday afternoon at 1 o'clock and from Trinity Lutheran Church on Spring street at 2:30 o'clock. Interment in Montrose cemetery. Mr. Remus' wife died very suddenly a month ago, on November 22.

Krumville, Dec. 30.—Elijah Miller died at his home here on Saturday, December 24, aged 72 years. He is survived by the following children: Elias, Mrs. Maude Stokes, John, Harry, DeRoy, Ernest and Mrs. George Young. The funeral which was largely attended was conducted by the Rev. Thomas S. Braithwaite on Wednesday in the Reformed Church. Interment was in the Krumville Cemetery.

Mrs. Fannie Frances Beadle, wife of the late Jesse Beadle, died on Thursday at her home, 139 Greenlawn avenue. She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Lena May Onker, of this city; a son, William Beadle, of Beacon, N. Y.; and three granddaughters, Mrs. E. E. Oughtree, Jr., Mrs. Lester Wolf and Frances Onker. Funeral from the late residence on Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Interment in Wiltwyck cemetery.

The funeral of William C. Robinson was held on Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the funeral chapel of the Leo V. Grogan estate, Pearl and Wall streets, thence to St. Mark's Church, Foxhall avenue, where services were conducted by the Rev. J. F. Proctor, pastor of the church, and the Rev. E. O. Clark, pastor of the Franklin Street A. M. E. Zion Church. The burials were in the George W. Johnson, St. Van Derzee, interment was in Montrose cemetery.

The funeral of Elizabeth T. Meagher was held Thursday from the home of her mother, 145 Downs street, at 9:15 o'clock and 10 o'clock from St. Joseph's Church, where a Mass of requiem was offered for the repose of her soul by the Rev. Louis M. Cusack, pastor of St. Joseph's. The funeral cortege was very large and the floral tributes were many and beautiful, testifying to the esteem in which the deceased was held by her relatives and friends. The bearers were James A. Phelan, Clifford Addis, David Winter and John Shurtler. Interment was in the family plot in St. Mary's cemetery, the Rev. Father Cusack pronouncing the final absolution at the grave.

The funeral of Rose Cecelia, daughter of Antonio and Rose Liccardo Gentile, was held this morning at the late residence, 360 Broadway, at 9:15 o'clock and 10 o'clock at St. Joseph's Church, where a Mass of requiem was offered for the repose of her soul by the Rev. Louis M. Cusack, celebrant, assisted by the Rev. Martin P. Leddy, C.S.A., deacon, and the Rev. William H. Kennedy, sub-deacon. The chancel choir assisted by Herman LaTour and Harry Clearwater under the direction of Miss Gertrude Reiser, organist, rendered the responses to the Mass. At the offertory Mr. LaTour sang "Pie Jesu" and at the conclusion of the Mass, Messrs. Clearwater and LaTour rendered very feelingly a duet. As the body was being borne from the church, Mr. LaTour sang "Ave Maria." The church was filled with sorrowing relatives and friends and there was a profusion of floral tributes. The funeral cortege was very large, showing the high esteem in which the deceased was held by her many friends. The bearers were Samuel Camaraca, John Verucci, Quirino Russo, Nathan Palisi and Joseph DiDonna. Interment was in the family vault in St. Mary's cemetery, where the ceremonies were conducted by the Rev. Father Cusack, who pronounced the final absolution.

Society Notes

A Home Coming Party.

Tuesday evening the home of Mrs. Varga 15 Abryn street was the scene of a home-coming party for her daughter, Miss Irene Varga, formerly of this city, now of New York. Refreshments were served and there was dancing until the wee hours of the morning. Among the guests were: The Misses Irene Varga, Kathleen Brandow, Margaret Martin, Evelyn May, Helen Conklin, Dorothy Krom, Edith Avery, Rudy Smith, the Messrs. John Graney, Leo Doehny, Harry Brandow, Wolf Goldstein, James A. Zeller, Paul C. Zucca, Raymond Gadd, Vernon Scott, Mike Abdallah.

Eighth Wedding Anniversary.

New Paltz, Dec. 29.—Last Saturday night the Rural avenue friends of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Jenkins gave them a surprise party, it being their eighth wedding anniversary. About seven o'clock the guests were seated around small square tables in mixed quartets and served with a high bowl of clam chowder, rolls, coffee and fruit. The anniversary cake, made and decorated by Mrs. Mildred Roosa, was pronounced a work of art. Mrs. Guy Gardner made a speech and presented Mr. and Mrs. Jenkins with a handsome white bed spread. The tables were cleared and dominoes were played. With congratulations, best wishes and regrets the party broke up just before midnight.

Twentieth Wedding Anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Lane celebrated their twentieth wedding anniversary at their home in Mt. Tremper Monday evening, December 26. Sixty-two guests were present from New York, N. J., Newburgh, Kingston, Shokan, Boscawen, Pine Hill, Arkville, Mr. T. P. Tupper. The evening was spent in playing cards and dancing. The spacious rooms were beautifully decorated for the occasion, the color scheme being red and green. At 11 o'clock a delicious buffet luncheon was served. Mr. Lane and Mrs. Egbert Hasbrouck gave an appropriate toast. Many handsome and expensive gifts were received and at a late hour the guests departed wishing Mr. and Mrs. Lane many more years of happy married life.

Young-Lowe.

St. Wendelin's Church, Ruby, was the scene of a pretty Christmas wedding at half after ten o'clock, Monday morning, December 26, when Miss Helen M. Lowe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Lowe of Kingston, became the bride of John H. Young of Ruby. The bride party entered the church to the strains of the "Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin." During the ceremony and the Nuptial Mass that followed, at which the church pastor, the Rev. George J. Hafford, officiated, William C. and George Brophy, cousins of the groom, rendered appropriate solos. Miss Margaret Mulholland, also a cousin of the groom, presided at the organ. The bride was charming in a gown of white crepe meteor trimmed with rhinestones and pearls. Her veil was caught with a coronet of pearls and she carried a shower bouquet of bride roses. Miss Edna A. Pinckney, who was bridesmaid, was attired in a gown of orchid georgette. Her bouquet was of pink carnations. The groom was attended by his brother Joseph Young. The happy couple left the church amid a shower of rice and confetti. A reception was held at the recently erected and newly furnished home of the bride and groom. After congratulations were extended, a wedding breakfast was served to about sixty guests. The bride was the recipient of many beautiful gifts of gold, silver, cut glass, and china. The guests departed wishing them many years of happiness.

D. A. R. Tea Dance.

The old, historic Slight house at the junction of Crown and Green streets, now the charming home of Wiltwyck Chapter, D. A. R., radiated good cheer from wreath-trimmed, candle-light windows and welcomed Dutch door on Wednesday afternoon as the chapter members greeted the guests to the holiday tea dance. The very walls seemed to renew their youth and days of yesteryear as they listened to the sound of tripping feet keeping time to dancing music and to the music of happy laughter and Christmas greetings. Never has the chapter house looked as beautiful as it did on Wednesday, with its Christmas decorations of evergreen, holly-red ribbons and candles and the American flag. But the inspiration of the picture was the happy faces—and lovely as well—of Kingston daughters in their fascinating Christmas gowns, and the radiant appearance of Kingston youth, not to mention the proud glances of their elders who also enjoyed the dancing to Zucca's orchestra. The floors of all the rooms on the ground floor had been prepared for dancing, which added much to the pleasure of the guests. The reception committee, composed of the regent, Mrs. Virgil B. Van Wagoner, Mrs. Frey, chairman of the social committee, Mrs. Bogart, Mrs. Scott, Mrs. G. Newton Wood and Mrs. T. V. Brown, welcomed the guests as they entered the old colonial hall. The artistic decorations were in charge of Mrs. John Rodie. But all of the festivity was not confined to the first floor. Hospitality was graciously dispensed in the assembly room on the second floor, made festive with wreaths and baskets of evergreens and holly with the exquisitely appointed tea table at the

"Presentments" In Oil Conspiracy

Washington Grand Jury Recently Scores Principles After District Attorney Declined To Draw Indictments While Concept Proceedings Were Pending. Washington, Dec. 30 (AP).—Balked by the district attorney's office in its desire to return indictments in the oil jury tampering case, the federal grand jury today made "presentments" roundly scoring the principals in the proceedings, and asserting that the evidence gathered constituted sufficient proof of conspiracy. District Attorney Peyton Gordon had declined to draw indictments against Harry F. Sinclair, William J. Burns, and their associates who figured in the shadowing of the Fall-Sinclair oil jury, while the contempt cases against them were pending. Unable to obtain indictments, the jury decided to make its report anyway for such action as might be decided upon.

Dorsey Hyde, foreman of the grand jury, insisted that the presentment, which also named W. Sherman Burns, of the Burns detective agency; Sheldon Clark and Henry Mason Day, Sinclair oil officials; Charles G. Ruddy and Frank J. O'Reilly, must be acted upon by the district attorney's office.

Hyde said that the jury had been convinced for some time that the action of the oil men and the detectives constituted "conspiracy to defeat the ends of justice," as charged in the presentment which was prepared a week ago.

The foreman declared that because of the many angles in the oil case now before the courts, he was not surprised that no indictments were drawn up.

"I would not expect the prosecuting officials to take any other action than they have taken," he declared. He explained, however, that the grand jury felt the evidence constituted such a clear-cut violation of the law, that the inquirers were duty bound to return the presentment to the court.

Gordon said he would not draw up indictments on the basis of the presentment, adding that in view of the contempt proceedings, which have not yet been concluded, he thought it best not to return indictments at the present time.

The district attorney disagreed with Hyde that action was necessary on the presentment itself. He said none was necessary and that none would be taken.

Appeals for League Support

Viscount Cecil In New Year's Message States Another War Would Mean the Breakup of Civilization.

London, Dec. 30 (AP).—Another great war would mean the breakup of civilization, Viscount Cecil, former British representative at the League of Nations, says in a New Year's message in which he appeals for support of the League of Nations.

Viscount Cecil, who resigned from the Baldwin cabinet because of his disappointment at British policy in the recent tri-partite naval conference at Geneva, particularly asked Canada to support the league in its work, citing the Canadian attitude at Geneva as being a wonderful lead to have given the British Empire. "Briefly, the league stands for world peace," Viscount Cecil said, "social improvement and justice. Those are tremendous ideals and can only be achieved by placing them above the sphere of party politics and going 'all out' for them. That is a point to be borne in mind by all League of Nations societies. Their aims must be entirely non-political, as is that of the British League of Nations Union."

Viscount Cecil expressed encouragement to know that there is an active League of Nations society in Canada which is "helping to build up a public opinion that not only believes in the league ideals but is actually willing to give a lead in one of the surest ways to peace—arbitration."

THE JOINERS.

News of Interest to Members of Fraternal Societies.

Owing to the fact that New Year's will be observed on Monday, there will be no meeting of Roundout Lodge, No. 243, F. & A. M. that evening. The next meeting of the lodge will be on Monday evening, January 9.

The Shepherds of Bethlehem, No. 35, will hold installation of officers on Thursday evening, January 5, in Mechanics' Hall, Henry street. There will be a Christmas tree and each member is requested to bring a present to put on the tree. After the installation, a supper will be served. A large delegation is expected from Newburgh to attend the meeting. The meeting will start at 8 o'clock and all members are asked to be present.

All men are equal, but the talents women have for getting their own way are varied.

center of attraction. The high light from very tall, red candles fell softly upon glittering silver, a most artistic centerpiece of red carnations and Euphorbia and brilliant cut glass dishes holding red candles and confetti, arranged by Mrs. David Terry. Sandwiches, cake, tea and coffee were served. Mrs. Philip E. Loring and Mrs. A. V. V. Kenyon, William Lawton and Mrs. John Forsyth, Mrs. W. N. Fossenden and Miss Minnie Millard in turn presided at the tea and coffee area. The refreshments were in charge of Mrs. Ralph D. Clearwater and Mrs. William Simmons.

Senator Edge Endorses Hoover

Washington, Dec. 30 (AP).—Secretary Hoover was endorsed for the Republican presidential nomination today by Senator Edge of New Jersey in announcing his candidacy for delegate at large from New Jersey to the next Republican convention. Edge said he heartily favored the nomination of Secretary Hoover and hoped the Republicans of New Jersey, when given the opportunity, would take a like course. His endorsement was predicated upon the belief, he explained, that President Coolidge was "eliminated" from the race. The New Jersey primary will be held in May.

"Certainly nothing can be fairer," he said, "than to permit the Republicans of New Jersey to state by their vote who they prefer their delegates to support." Senator Edge hitherto has insisted upon the renomination of Mr. Coolidge and he is one of the first Republican leaders of the east to come out for Secretary Hoover. Senator Moses of New Hampshire is another Hoover man.

Kiwanis Club
Installs Officers

An enthusiastic gathering of the Kiwanis Club attended the weekly luncheon Thursday to install the officers for the coming year. During the luncheon several new songs were practiced, including the new duet, "Blame it on the Two Black Crow," which would certainly seem to furnish a general alibi.

The past president, Dr. Gifford, started his presentation of the novel to the new president to the tune of Chopin's Funeral March, but such was the character of his opening remarks that the levity quickly subsided to appreciation of the words that the retiring president was using to tell of the past year of Kiwanis and of the many helping hands that had been extended to aid in the work of carrying Kiwanis ideals and spirit towards a further accomplishment.

Clarence Rowland, the president of the club for 1928, responded very feelingly, promising his earnest work and asking for the cooperation of all members of the club to make 1928 a banner year.

Lucius H. Doty, the incoming vice president, was called upon, as were the other officers.

The presentation of the past president's pin to Dr. Gifford was made by Judge Fowler in his usually effective vein. The judge, who was instrumental in the founding of the Kiwanis Club, opened his remarks by saying that he was surprised that such a young man as himself could be the daddy of a club that had so many old men in it.

The closing song concluded the program.

Charge Doctor
With Murder

Los Angeles, Dec. 29 (Ap.)—Dr. Charles M. McMillan, a physician, was arrested here last night charged with slaying Mrs. Amelia Appleby, whose body was found sewed in a canvas sack just outside the city and that they made a trip east last month Monday.

Police declared they found McMillan in his apartment with all of Mrs. Appleby's private papers spread out on a sheet on the floor. The woman was known to have possessed valuable property, including an apartment house in Chicago, and the officers said the motive was the desire of her accused slayer to obtain title to this. Police declared that Dr. McMillan was a doctor of medicine and that they made a trip east last month Monday.

An Added
Touch of Life

THE flicker of an open fire—the quiet tick of a clock—the beauty of growing flowers all give a "lived-in" atmosphere to a room.

Of these, a clock often with its mellow-toned gong plays its part most constantly.

The model pictured above, by Seth Thomas, will enliven so many places about the home—also giving the assurance of fine timekeeping service. Our complete stock of other Seth Thomas designs is sure to interest you.
